Mrs. Davis, 109, Once Slave, Claims 'State's Oldest' Title

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Laying claim to being the oldest living Nebraskan is Mrs. Emma Davis of the Carver Nursing Home, 2001 Vine. She says she'll be 110 Christmas Day.

Mrs. Davis says she was born Dec. 25, 1846, on a plantation near Waxahachie, Tex. She recalls vividly the happiness of her people when the Emancipation Proclamation was signed Jan. 1, 1863.

Mrs. Davis had been put to work in the fields when a young girl, and says she was often severely beaten. When the slaves were freed she says many who had been treated well stayed with their former masters. She left her former master and got her first paying job, as a dishwasher.

Sews, 'Loves' TV

Mrs. Davis says she "didn't know what a sick day was" until a few years ago. Her hearing is excellent and her sight is good enough to sew.

She "loves" television, particularly boxing and rassling. "I feel so sorry for them rasslers sometimes," she declares "that I'd like to get up there and help them!"

Mrs. Davis has never voted, driven a car or attended a day of school. And she hasn't been downtown since moving to Lincoln from Texas in 1947.

Her most exciting experience since moving here was in 1951 when her son's home caught fire. She tried unsuccessfully to put it out with a pan of water and was nearly trapped by the flames. But a passer-by rescued her and she suffered no ill effects.

Mrs. Davis has outlived her four sisters, one brother, three daughters and three sons. Her last son, Girt, died about a year ago.

Rankin Said Near To Appointment As Solicitor General

The 49-year-old Lincoln, Neb., lawyer would succeed Simon E. Sobeloff of Baltimore, whose long pending appointment to the Circuit Court of Appeals finally was confirmed by the Senate last month.

Adlai's Stand On Rights Irks Dixie

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

CHICAGO (AP)—Dixie Democrats bristled Wednesday at Adlai E. Stevenson's militant stand on civil rights, and the Stevenson high command conceded a loss of votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's top rival for the nomination at next week's Democratic National Convention, tried to promote the idea that Stevenson had let himself in for a major setback—that the South was "running away" from the former Illinois governor.

Just A 'Few Votes'

Stevenson's top lieutenants said some votes have been lost, but only a few. They stuck to predictions their man will turn up with a quick victory in the presidential nominating derby.

And, so far, there are no signs of any real stampede away from Sevenson as a result of his pronouncement that Democrats, through their national convention and platform, should "express unequivocal approval" of the Supreme Court decision barring racial segregation in public schools.

Even with Stevenson taking that position, for a party declaration that would be highly unpalatable to most Southerners, there still appeared to be a good chance the bulk of Southern delegates would wind up in Stevenson's corner. At this point, there seems to be no other comfortable place they can go.

Don't Like Harriman

Harriman is the only other outstanding contender for the presidential nomination, and his views on civil rights and other issues long have made him unacceptable to the South.

Harriman said at Albany, N.Y., Wednesday, he is in the battle for the presidential nomination to the finish and expects to win.

Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky got into town Wednesday with 30 votes from his home state in his pocket and hopes of a Harriman - Stevenson deadlock that would let him slip in and grab the nomination.

Happy Sees 'Deadlock'

Perhaps with an element of wishful thinking, Chandler told an interviewer Stevenson's new civil rights pronouncement "almost assures" a deadlock.

Stevenson himself picked up some expected but hitherto backstage support from Oscar L. Chapman, secretary of the interior under President Truman. Chapman has been friendly to Stevenson all along, but Wednesday he put it on the record with word to newsmen that:

"I have been telling my friends that Stevenson is my choice."

No, Chapman said, that can't be interpreted as meaning Stevenson also is the choice of Truman, who is arriving here Thursday for an afternoon appearance before the Platform Committee.

Harry's Idea?

"Mr. Truman will speak for himself," Chapman said. "I realize that my action will be interpreted as indicating that the former President favors Stevenson. But that is not necessarily true."

Loyd Benefield, Harriman's campaign manager, discounted the effect of Chapman's announcement on grounds "this is nothing new—he's been for Stevenson all along."

Talk of any bolt or third party movement was significantly absent among the advance guard for the convention which opens Monday. Northerners and Southerners alike still spoke hopefully of steering their way past the shoals of a party split.

Adroit Phrases

Furthermore, there is a chance that Democratic platform drafters can come up with some adroit phrasing of a civil rights plank that won't offend anyone too deeply.

Among some Southerners, the inclination was to sit tight and see what the Platform Committee produces. They wound up Wednesday with five of their own people on the 15-member subcommittee which will do the actual drafting.

This gave Dixie a bigger than usual voice in planing platform planks to Southern liking. Four years ago the South had only four of 20 members on the drafting subcommittee—a fifth of the total as against a third this time.

At least two Northerners with designs on a strongly worded civil rights plank were put on the subcommittee by Platform Chairman Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts. They are Reps. William L. Dawson of Chicago, a Negro, and Emanuel Celler of New York.

Chapman Condemns 'Giveaway'

. . . At Plank Session

CHICAGO (AP) — Oscar L. Chapman, secretary of interior in the Truman administration, Wednesday accused the Republicans of betraying the public interest by "giving away" the nation's valuable natural resources.

The former Cabinet member called upon the Democratic National Convention Platform Committee to pledge voters a return to the conservation measures affecting land, water, energy and minerals which he said were in effect while the Democrats were in office.

Speaking in behalf of a party Advisory Committee on Natural Resources, Chapman said, "We condemn—and everlastingly will oppose—this raiding and grabbing of our dwindling resource wealth through political manipulation and administrative subversion by the Eisenhower administration's special interest 'partnership' giveaway policy."

Partnership

The Eisenhower administration has described its policy on natural resources as one that encourages development through a partnership between private enterprise and the government.

In his prepared testimony, Chapman said: "Partnership, Eisenhower style, is nothing more nor less than an unholy alliance between the federal government and the private power companies of America."

Chapman said "this destructive policy" will cost the nation its "great opportunity to develop fully their water potential for it means that inadequate, wasteful underdevelopment on a piecemeal basis will be substituted for the great river basin blueprints which set as their goals full development to benefit all."

Second HST Aid

Chapman was the second former Truman administration official to unloose critical charges at the Republican regime Wednesday.

Leon H. Keyserling, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under Truman, told a cheering committee that Republican claims of having promoted a "record prosperity" was a "myth."

Keyserling said unemployment had increased, that farm troubles had gone from bad to worse and that small businesses were being "hounded and squeezed."

CALI BLAST DEATH TOLL SAID 1,200

CALI, Colombia (AP) — The death toll in Tuesday's dynamite blast in the heart of Cali was estimated as high as 1,200 Wednesday. Relief poured in and the task of burying the dead went on.

Up to 2,000 buildings may have been destroyed by the explosion, some sources figured. Damage to business and industry was estimated as high as 40 million dollars. The blast left a crater 85 feet deep and about 200 feet wide.

No North Americans were reported killed or injured in the explosion that destroyed the center of the city.

Seven trucks loaded with government dynamite, parked for the night in a densely populated area of slums, warehouses, small hotels, stores and factories let go in the blast.

President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla charged that it was an act of political sabotage, hinting the explosion came as the result of a joint statement by ex-Presidents Alberto Llera Camargo and Laureano Gomez, appealing to their rival opposition parties to unite and overthrow the government.

Soil Bank Grazing OK To 4 Counties

Governor Victor Anderson's office received word late Wednesday that farmers in four Nebraska counties, and part of a fifth, would be able to use soil bank acreage reserve land for grazing animals.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson granted grazing permission to these counties: Burt, Cuming, Pierce, Thurston and non-irrigated portions of Hall county, through August 31.

Caramba! Zee Argentine Film She Go Flat In Feud

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The movies have gone flat and fans are hopping mad in Argentina's wachiest crisis — the wide-screen strike.

The issue has reached the highest levels of President Pedro Aramburu's provisional government. And no solution is in sight.

The trigger that touched off things in this ever-volatile Latin land was a government decree rolling back ceiling prices for cinemascope, superscope and vista-vision movies from 9 pesos 40 centavos to 6 pesos 50 centavos from approximately 35 to 20 cents.

Super-Duper

Most foriegn films shown here are imported from the United States and utilize some sort of super-duper "scope" effect. The government, battling inflation and trying to pacify the restive working class, declared the movie is a necessity, not a luxury, an figured 9 pesos 40 centayos was too high.

the rollback, started a lockout Theater owners, protesting Monday.

Now if there is anything the Argentine likes, it's his movie.

Afternoon crowds, finding theater lobbies locked, rioted through this capital's downtown streets. One stone-throwing mob smashed virtually all the heavy glass entrance doors of the Gran Rex, one of Buenos Aires' plushest movies.

Now the theater owners have switched tactics.

They reopened, but all those previously billing wide screen movies substituted flat screen films, some so old they approached the nostalgic.

Rains Heavy In Lancaster County

Heavy rains drenched the Lancaster County area Wednesday night following two severe weather warnings.

Thunderstorms and strong electrical activity accompanied rains that measured 1.75 inches at Martell and 1.60 at Hickman.

Lincoln got .53 of an inch of rain in a heavy but brief shower early Wednesday evening.

The sudden storm dropped Lincoln's temperature from 83 to 69 in a matter of minutes at 6 p.m.

Wymore had 25 of an inch of rain and Hastings reported .10 Milford and Waverly both had hard rains and electrical storms.

Falls City police reported that a wind and rain storm pummeled the city, knocking down some power lines and trees.

Omaha received but a trace of rain Wednesday night, although the day's total stood at .43 inch.

Valentine reported .01 inch and Chadron had a trace of precipitation.

Tornado-like winds destroyed a shooting gallery at Fairview, Kan., across the state line from Falls City.

Thursday's weather was not expected to be so violent with the Weather Bureau forecast calling for partly cloudy skies throughout the state with a few afternoon showers to fall mostly in the Panhandle.

Cool weather was to continue with highs Thursday to stay in the lower 80s.

Showers fell in the southeastern section of Nebraska Wednesday morning and Omaha had hail up to one inch in diameter.

Tuesday night's electrical storm, which also plagued the southeast, combined with Wednesday morning's rainfall, brought an inch or more of rain to Bennet, Columbus, Elkhorn, Omaha, Hastings and Seward.

Lightning scored hits on three homes during the storms. A farm home east of College View was struck and two Omaha homes suffered minor damage. Lightning also struck a men's clothing shop in Omaha.

50,000-Watt Power Line Set To Gavins Point Dam

The Nebraska Public Power System took two steps this week to alleviate the state's growing electric power problem.

Dewey De Boer, the agency's general manager, announced the start of engineering work for a 115-kilovolt heavy duty transmission line designed to tap Missouri Basin power sources at Gavins Point, South Dakota for 50,000 kilowatts of new power, chiefly needed for the state's summer load.

He also announced that he would attend the Missouri Basin Inter - Agency Committee meeting Friday at Grand Lake, Colorado, to seek support for Nebraska's thus far unsuccessful bid for a 230 kilovolt line connection the basin's Fort Randall dam and the state's transmission system at Grand Island.

Nebraska has twice failed to get Congressional approval and with it the initial appropriations for the proposed $8 million line to be constructed by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

To Present Data

De Boer will present data to the basin committee in support of Nebraska's urgent need for the power relief the line would give. He is hopeful of committee assistance in Nebraska's renewed effort.

DeBoer explained that the projected Gavins Point line is not a replacement for the Fort Randall-Grand Island proposal, but represents supply of additional power need for Northeast Nebraska and the state's general summer load. He said the Bureau of Reclamation had indicated it would supply the power from its summer surplus. The estimated cost of the line is $81,000.

DeBoer noted that the NPPS has a generating capacity of 270,000 kilowatts but recent summer peaks have required 370,000 kilowatts. The system has been able to meet the state's needs by purchase of power from the Omaha Public Power and Irrigation District and other nearby suppliers.

Enough For Now

He said that the proposed 50 kilowatt Gavins Point Line plus the new power from Central Public Power and Irrigation District's thermal generating plant, presently under construction for the production of 100,000 kilowatts, would give Nebraska momentary self-sufficiency in the face of its power needs, but would not supply future needs on the basis of present growth. He added that federal construction of the 230,000 kilovolt Fort Randall-Grand Island line would project state sufficiency beyond the 1958 date of expected critical power need.

NPPS now has two 115 KV interconnections with Missouri River power sources. These lines, from Fort Randall Dam to O'Neill and from Gavins Point to Belden, are heavily loaded. If one should go out, the entire state-wide power system would be on an emergency basis. A third line, such as the one proposed, will help, but only a heavy power carrier such as the proposed 230 KV line to Grand Island will provide more than a temporary solution.

All Property To Be Destroyed —Spinster's Will

OMAHA (INS)—A court hearing on the will of a wealthy Omaha spinster, who directed that her personal effects and household goods be destroyed, Wednesday was postponed until October 18.

The will is being contested by a relative and an Omaha hospital.

Mary Vivian Griffith, who inherited her fortune estimated at more than $100,000 from her father, a railroad land agent, also directed that all metal articles be melted down and sold.

She specified that jewelry containing valuable stones should be melted down without the stones being removed.

Boy Of 9 Hurt In Fall Through Roof

A nine year old boy was hurt Wednesday evening when he fell from an upper story of a vacated building while hunting pigeons with friends.

The youth, Vernon Phillips, of 130 L St., the son fo Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Phillips, of the same address, was reported in "good" condition early Thursday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

According to friends who were playing with young Phillips, they were out hunting in an abandoned building between M and L Streets on 2nd. They were climbing around on the top, when the boy fell through, landing on a brick floor. His body was covered with soot from the floor.

Hospital officials kept the boy for x-rays for a fracture of the right thigh. They also took several stitches in the youth's jaw and inside his lip. He lost one tooth.

PEN GETS NEW BUILDINGS

The Nebraska Penitentiary has underway a $375,000 building program, most of it planned before the 1955 riots at the institution but much of it speeded up to help prevent recurrence of the disturbances.

Seizure Termed Plunder

Forceful Speech Raps Nasser

LONDON (INS) — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, describing the Suez crisis as "a matter of life or death for us," told the world Wednesday night Britain "could never accept" Egypt's seizure of the canal.

In a forceful radio-television speech to the nation Eden expressed confidence that the 24-nation conference, due to convene in London on Aug. 16, "can produce a workable scheme for the future of the canal."

Eden

(In Washington, President Eisenhower said he had "every hope" that the Suez crisis "will be settled by peaceful means." But he refused to declare his opposition to the use of military force if negotiations with Egypt failed.)

Most of Eden's statements were moderate in tone, even when he referred to the huge military preparations Britain is making to fight, if necessary, to keep the canal under international control.

But he assailed Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser as a fascist-type whose July 26 nationalization of the canal company was "an act of plunder."

.. A Kind of "Munich"

The prime minister charged that Nasser's government — which he carefully distinguished from the Egyptian and Arab people — had acted as "Fascist governments behave."

He warned the free nations, by implication, against accepting a kind of "Munich" in the Middle East — such as Britain and France accepted from Hitler and Mussolini.

Nasser, Eden charged, seized Britain's "main artery to and from the commonwealth" for his own selfish ends.

Britain and her allies, said the blunt-spoken prime minister, cannot tolerate such an action.

Nevertheless, he went on, Britain, the United States and France joined in calling the Aug. 16 Suez conference to settle the crisis by negotiation, not by war.

Nasser Visit Later

CAIRO (INS) — Sources close to Egyptian President Nasser said Wednesday Nasser would not —as reported from Moscow — go to Russia before the Aug. 16 Suez conference.

The Egyptian ambassador to Russia said earlier Nasser would arrive on a scheduled visit on Aug. 14. Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said the date of the visit was up to Nasser.

But the sources in Cairo said Nasser plans to go to Moscow in "late August," not before the proposed 24-nation London conference begins.

Ike Promises To Bow Out If New Exam Is Unfavorable

2 MONTHS SINCE HIS OPERATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he feels physically fit, but will have another complete physical examination before the Nov. 6 election.

He reaffirmed his promise—made when he announced for re-election—that he will let the American people know if anything causes him to think he is not fit to serve a second term.

Eisenhower told his news conference:

"At an appropriate time in—some time later this year, but certainly before the election, I will have another complete examination, and to determine that there has been no change in my situation.

"I Will Tell Them"

"If at any time I have any reason to believe that I am not fit, as I believe myself to be now, I will come before the American public and tell them."

Eisenhower supplied this brief mention of his health two months to the day after he entered Walter Reed Army Hospital for an abdominal operation.

The President, during the conference, said the United States "has every hope" of a peaceful settlement of the crisis over Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal. He said that as things now stand, he couldn't conceive of military force being a good solution.

He also touched on many domestic matters, including politics.

Remarking that he plans to attend the final day's session of the Republican National Convention Aug. 20, Eisenhower set off laughter with this understatement:

"I am assuming that I am going to be important to them."

Reporters generally agreed that Eisenhower's color looked good, better than it did a week ago when he held his first news conference since the ileitis operation June 9.

He stood—almost half-an-hour, in the nonairconditioned conference room, and seemed a shade tired toward the end. But generally his manner was crisp, and several times he broke into an easy, wide grin.

Eisenhower, with some firmness, refused to discuss the situation developing from the attempt of Harold E. Stassen, a presidential aide, to get Vice President Richard Nixon off the Republican ticket.

POLICE CONTINUE SEARCH IN CAR-WRECKING INCIDENT

Investigation was to continue Thursday by the Lincoln Police Department in the series of accidents late Monday night and early Tuesday morning in which some six or seven cars, all parked in the neighborhood of 41st and High Street, were rolled down the hill.

Police speculated that the incident was the work of children between the ages of 14 and 15.

Punishment, once the offenders are found, will depend upon the ages of those involved in what police officials termed the most extreme case of such an incident ever in Lincoln. Restitution for all damages will come first, Sgt. Gail Gade said.

After that, he said, it will depend on the record of the offenders. If they are 16 or 17, he said chances are they will be taken into court and charged with malicious destruction of property, with the possibility of a fine. If under 16, they will be turned over to county juvenile authorities.

Gade wanted to emphasize to all parents that "these kids aren't respecting other people's property. They were out late," he said, "and something is wrong in the home. If my child doesn't come in till 3 a.m. I'd find out why. It's a case of kids, out late, who wanted something to do, and turned to this."

Spray Plane Crashes; Kills Five In Florida

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Five men were killed Wednesday when a converted Army C-82 "Flying Boxcar" being used to spread insecticide across south Florida crashed while landing at the Boca Rotan Air Force Base near Delray Beach.

The victims were identified as William J. Day, 34, the pilot, of San Leandro, Calif.; Ray Howry, 32, co-pilot, of Hayward, Calif.; John Tichner, Warren Rogers and Al Johnson, all crew members from Miami. The three crewmen were believed to be between 18 and 20 years old.

Officials at the air base, some 35 miles north of Miami, said the plane apparently developed engine trouble while flying to the Delray Beach area with another C-82.

Lighting Causes $400 Damage To Lincoln Home

The home of Mrs. Emma Manske, located one-half mile east of the College View Cemetery on Pioneer, suffered an estimated $400 damage Wednesday morning when it was struck by lightning, firemen reported.

They said the bolt knocked a hole in the roof, setting it and a bedroom afire.

A-Blast Scars, Broken Romance Cause Suicide

NAGASAKI (INS) — A young woman disfigured in the atomic bombing of Nagasaki committed suicide Wednesday because of a broken romance as her townspeople prepared to mark the 11th anniversary of the World War II nuclear attack.

Masae Suzuda, 19, ended her life by swallowing poison after her parents forbade her to marry Senji Yamaguchi on the grounds that he, too, was "atom-scarred" and they wanted their daughter to wed a "healthy" man.

Her heartbroken lover said he would participate in observances of the atomic bombing that devastated Nagasaki on Aug. 9, 1945.

RUSSIA SENDS LATVIANS BACK FROM SIBERIA

RIGA, Latvia (AP) — Latvians deported to Siberia during the Stalin era are flocking home under the new liberalized policy of the Soviet Union's collective leadership.

Swedish reporters and officials currently in this Baltic capital for a visit by the Swedish fleet have met and talked with scores of them.

They had been sent to Siberia as part of Stalin's deportation policy during those years that Nikita S. Khrushchev complained so bitterly about in his secret speech on Stalin to the Communist Party's 20th Congress.

Automobile Maker-Dealer Franchise Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a hotly disputed bill giving dealers the right to sue automobile manufacturers on charges of coercive practice and bad faith cancellation of franchises.

Congress passed the bill amid conflicting arguments as to whether it would help or hurt private enterprise, and whether it would discourage or stimulate so-called "bootleg" sales of automobiles with allegedly permit the private buyer little or no redress if the car proves faulty.

The President, in signing the bill, said, "It constitutes only a partial solution to the problem. . . ."

It might be considered an unwarranted intrusion by the federal government into an area traditionally reserved to private enterprise, and therefore "represents a new departure in the exercise of federal authority, a point which will undoubtedly come to the attention of the courts," the President added.

But, he said, he was approving the bill in view of the findings of Congress that the conditions in the automobile industry may be of a temporary nature.

The bill was an outgrowth of public hearings at which a Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee heard disputed testimony that dealers often had been forced by coercion and intimidation to buy from the manufacturers more cars, trucks and parts than they could sell through normal trade practices.

Lincoln Resident, Mrs. Burgess Dies

Mrs. Martha H. Burgess, 61, of 3727 Everett, died Wednesday.

She was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Church.

Harriman On 3rd-4th Ballot — DeSapio

CHICAGO (AP) — Averell Harriman's campaign manager Wednesday predicted the New York governor will be nominated for the presidency on the third or fourth ballot at next week's Democratic National Convention.

The Harriman spokesman, Tammany leader Carmine DeSapio, said Harriman now has 350 to 400 votes compared with "not more than 450" for Stevenson.

De Sapio told a news conference Harriman has picked up about three-quarters of the 200 or so delegates who were committed to Sen. Estes Kefauver before Kefauver pulled out of the race and offered his support to Stevenson.

Angry Terms

In a formal statement which he read, DeSapio blasted in angry terms what he called "willful distortion of facts, figures and truth" by anti-Harriman elements—meaning, though he didn't say so, the Stevenson organization.

These tactics, DeSapio said, "must be either a Republican - inspired hoax or an act of desperation, conceived in the awareness that Harriman is gaining new support and new strength each hour."

DeSapio said Harriman "formally, unequivocally and categorically is in the fight to the finish.

Plainly outraged by Stevenson camp claims of a first ballot victory, DeSapio said:

"The delegates alone will make the decision and not those irresponsible people who by the release of false figures and information are misusing the press and abusing reporters in a frantic effort to stem the Harriman tide."

CHICAGO POLIO COUNT SURGES TO 630 CASES

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's upsurging polio count reached 630 cases Wednesday with 21 new instances of the disease being reported for the 24-hour period that ended at midnight Tuesday.

Two deaths from polio were reported during the period bringing the number to 18 for the year, said Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the city's Board of Health.

At the same time in 1955 there were 85 cases and three deaths. In 1952, the previous year of highest incidence, there were 187 cases and 11 deaths during the corresponding period.

Bundesen said 311 cases of infantile paralysis, or 49 per cent, have been in the West Side area of high incidence. He said 347 cases, 55 per cent, have been children under 5, the group previously least inoculated with Salk vaccine.

Leaders of the early arrivals to the Democratic National Convention said they did not plan any program of Salk shots for the delegates. "There is no cause for alarm for delegates," Dr. Bundesen added.

In suburban Cook County—Chicago—five new cases were listed, bringing the year's total to 102. No new deaths were reported and the suburban area total still is two, health officials said. The outbreak is running about a week ahead of last year, officials reported.

Bundesen continued to urge vaccinations, especially for children under 5 This group has suffered 54 per cent of the total cases this year

"The pastor who does not understand the families of his congregation cannot gear his sermons to their needs," he declared

The conference also formed itself into five smaller sessions and through its leaders brought out discussions and aids in what the church can do for the couple after it is married and also how the couple, as it advances through the years, can serve the church.

Hall's Defeat in Kansas

From this distance it is difficult to put a finger on underlying currents contributing to the defeat of Kansas Gov. Fred Hall, seeking renomination for a second term. It is not customary for Kansas Republicans to get out of hand. Most of the time they are about as well disciplined in their Republicanism as it is possible to be.

But throughout much of his first term, Gov. Hall, a most personable young executive, has been a storm center in a state which, although overwhelmingly Republican, finds the members of both parties taking their politics seriously. In the accepted tradition of the late William Allen White, Kansas Republicanism is liberal or progressive, and Hall was recognized for his progressive views, for his willingness to take on Republican conservatives wherever he found them, and finally because he insisted that Kansas Republicans would fail the state's distinguished son, President Eisenhower, if they did not occupy advanced political grounds. Actually Kansas Sen. Frank Carlson was closer to the President than Gov. Hall and not infrequently was looked upon as a spokesman for the White House.

Basically there is less happiness among the people of Kansas than there was in 1952, or in 1954. Some of the shine of the Eisenhower personality is losing its luster in a state which likes to stake claim to the President, as a matter of pride. Kansas has been hit by drought. Its 1956 wheat crop was short, and substantially reduced. Its pastures and its other grain crops have suffered equally. And in some of the small towns the merchants were complaining.

This may have been one of those years when it was fashionable to take after the "in's" but we are inclined to believe other factors contributed more to Hall's defeat, particularly a determination by Kansas conservatives to rid themselves of a fiery young liberal.

Dan Turner Walks Out

Former Governor Dan Turner, one of Iowa's best remembered chief executives because of his courageous and dedicated leadership in the Iowa cause, has created a stir.

After years of semi-retirement he has returned to the hustings, not to break with the Republican party, but to withdraw his support of the Eisenhower administration. In recent months a severe critic of Agriculture Secretary Benson, Turner this week went all the way. He said unequivocally that he would not support a President who "seems to be isolated from a real understanding of farm conditions."

However Turner may effect the outcome of Iowa's voting in November, it cannot be gainsaid that Iowa Republicanism lost a stalwart leader. Turner has been a delegate to at least three national GOP conventions and has served as chairman at four Iowa state Republican conventions. He was Iowa vice-chairman of the pre-convention Eisenhower campaign in 1952. His departure is not one of a man of the fringe, but of one who over the years has been a party stalwart.

The loss of such a man is sufficient to cause the Republican party to take pause. He is a wiser party man than his younger associates. He was a governor of Iowa from 1931 to 1933, a full flowering public figure in the late 20's and early 30's—of that generation of Midwest Republican leaders who sought to preserve the Republican party of the Hoover days from its errors of agricultural evaluation, and who saw the redemption of the farming states through the ministration of Rooseveltian farm programs. Such men do not wish history to repeat itself and are good enough party men to act a second time to save the party from itself. His action recalls the dedicated act of a former Nebraska governor, Adam McMullen, who with a group of Midwest Republican governors had the wisdom and courage in 1928 to plead with their party to mend its ways for the betterment of agriculture. Those, too, were rebuffed. It cannot be said that they later took satisfaction in 1932's defeat of their party and the years of hardship that befell their states.

The Consumer's Refuge

When wage increases laid the foundation for a mild price-cost squeeze the nation's steel industry resolved the problem with effective dispatch. It raised the price of rough steel $8.50 a ton. That's all there was to it. There were not many who refused to concede that private enterprise is not entitled to that resort where it can be applied.

There will be reactions. Steel wages are a national yardstick. Some upward adjustments are to be expected in other fields. The consumer will feel the pressure of higher cost steel in a variety of ways. A Nebraska lumber dealer warned that the $8.50 increase in rough steel will be transformed into a $16 to $20 a ton increase on finished steel products. But in the end, in most instances, there will be a general price and wage readjustment to equalize the new arrangements and a more or less balanced economy will continue to move forward.

But the incident provides a vivid lesson in the general contemplation of the agricultural economy and points to the error in the thinking of those who persevere in treating the problem as one of typical free enterprise.

Food and fiber is more essential than steel and as highly specialized. But it is produced by a vast number of individuals and does not enjoy the resort of naming its own price. Nor can it dependably say at the outset of its production season how much it will produce. Nature has the last say. Regardless of human planning and planting it is weather that determines whether there will be a surplus or a shortage. The result goes into the market place not for the price the producer needs to assure financial soundness, but for that which the buyer is willing to pay.

From the producer's point of view there would be no farm problem if pricing were his prerogative. But there would be grave problems for the nation for food is a necessity of life and the public right to it overweighs the price-fixing privilege. That is the sound basis for a constructive farm program and parity arrangements—something that the Benson administration is not weighing properly. A just farm program is the refuge of the American public more than a support to the man who grows the crops. That is an important fact the sight of which is too easily lost.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The American Farm Bureau Federation spokesman must have been speaking ever so softly. In a statement prepared for delivery to Democratic platform writers, the Farm Bureau Federation gave warning that the aims of the Soil Bank Program may be defeated it it is used simply as a program of financial aid to farmers. If nothing else the Farm Bureau Federation could be a little bit more candid and implicit. What has developed, if anything to inspire this warning?

It is a little bit too much, perhaps, to expect that an organization that has been so partial in its support of Secretary of Agriculture Benson would speak critically of the application of the Soil Bank idea for the first time. The farmers in 1956 will receive their checks — and they are sorely in need of checks in localities where crops have been destroyed by drought — in October. The American people go to the polls to select a president and a congress on the first Tuesday in November. Now of course that is merely a coincidence. It would take a mean, petty and partisan stretch of the imagination to see any connection between the fact that the farmer will receive his Soil Bank check in October and go to the polls to vote on November 6. We are for the farmer whether he receives that check in October or at a later date. We are happy that rural America will receive better than $200 million for compliance with the Soil Bank. We might wish that instead of the farmer receiving payment for not producing something it became possible that he be able to sell his commodities at a profitable price for producing something. But Secretary Benson has surplusitis in aggravated form. We do not know to what extent the drought of 1955, followed by a second season of drought in much of the Great Plains in 1956, has cut into surpluses on which Benson places all emphasis. But in talking to the Democrats the Farm Bureau Federation should also address the Republicans, who are in the driver's seat. We assume they will later.

On The Right Trail: Wrong People

If anyone has taken a step to convert the Soil Bank program from mechanics to take land out of production to an agency primarily to provide the farmers with financial aid in the effort to influence an election, it is the party now in power. Take the Soil Bank away from the legislation passed by this Congress, and it was the Democrats who first proposed the Soil Bank, and there is nothing left in the way of a farm program.

Not all of the members of the American Farm Bureau Federation, we have been told, share the view of the organization's more vocal leaders 100 per cent. We have been told that down in the ranks there is disagreement in part with the position of the Bureau. Disagreement or not the fact remains that the first application of the Soil Bank idea has brought charges in some quarters that it is being utilized politically. That is not good. It is not good for the farm program—not good for the farmer and his family—not good if the Soil Bank is to acquire a permanent place in American rural life. Naturally we can expect that the processes of trial and error will continue until such a time that the farm problem disappears, if ever. But we can see little hope in the Bureau's position on price supports: "If price supports are to benefit farmers, they must complement our free choice production and distribution system by ranging upward and downward in harmony with constantly changing patterns of supply and demand."

Not All In Agreement

Whenever there is uncertainty such as those words project the farmer will find himself in trouble. Whenever he's got to swallow supply and demand fully and completely he will find himself with a headache.

New Park

The United States welcomes as its newest member of the national park family a sizeable piece of ground in the Virgin Islands. The 9,000 acre tropical retreat was formally designated as a national park during the recent Congress and the creating bill was signed a week ago by President Eisenhower. Five thousand of the 9,000 acres were a gift by Laurence Rockefeller.

Americans by and large have to touch up their memories to recall that the United States has an interest in the tropical islands, but it is a very real one. While the newcoming park is in wide contrast to those on the mainland—Yellowstone, for instance—its creation in due time will attract hundreds of thousands of visitors both broadening the nation's conception of itself and bringing brighter prospects for the development of the beautiful but seemingly so remote islands.

Not Right Year For Junketing

WASHINGTON — Most congressmen did not rush out of Washington on gala excursions to far corners of the world this year. They are too busy running for re-election. There were two exceptions, however: Rep. Thomas Gordon, Chicago Democrat, and Rep. Edmund P. Radwan, Buffalo, N.Y., Republican.

Exactly one week after Congress adjourned, they set sail on the U.S. naval vessel General Maurice Rose, Aug. 3, for a cruise of the Mediterranean, taking their families along.

Congressman Gordon was accompanied by his 16-year-old grandson; Congressman Radwan by his wife and three daughters, aged 13, 9, and 8. Earl Boyd Crawford, administrator for the House Foreign Affairs Committee, also went along. Members of a congressman's family pay a nominal charge for accommodations aboard a government vessel.

Officially the junket was labeled a "special study mission." And here is part of the official teletype instructions given to the American commanders at Rabat in French Morocco: Dhahran, Saudi Arabia: Veron, Italy; Naples, Tripoli, Athens, Ankara, London, Paris, Heidelberg, and Wiesbaden:

"Department of State has notified their posts to arrange briefing and sightseeing tours at each stop. In addition to state briefings, study mission requires briefings by military at each stop not to exceed 20-30 minutes. Briefings to be informal and to exclude use of military vernacular."

The teletype instructions continued with some specific ideas on sightseeing tours as follows:

"In Naples, study mission wishes to explore feasibility of boat trip to Capri either on 14 Aug. or 23 Aug.

"Representative Radwin and family will leave party when U.S. Rose returns to Naples on 23 Aug. and plan to travel privately through Italy, Germany, and France, departing from Le Havre on 7 Sept. on SS United States.

"You coordinate travel arrangements with local State Department representatives and render every assistance. Hotel residence not required as study mission will spend nights aboard ship."

KEFAUVER FOR VP?

Though Estes Kefauver's friends are pushing hard for second place on the Stevenson ticket, actually the senator himself has been sitting at his home near McMinnville, Tenn., not giving much of a hang whether he gets into another hot campaign or not.

Kefauver now holds some strategic spots on key committees and is not enthusiastic about giving them up. He is No. 2 on the Senate Judiciary Committee, and hopes soon to get on the Foreign Affairs Committee.

He tells friends that he has always been a battler, doesn't know how good he would be as a sedentary presiding officer merely keeping peace in the Senate.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Governor Harriman's office in Albany telephoned Senator Kefauver just before he pulled out of the race, to say that Kefauver could have the vice presidency on the Harriman ticket or be appointed to the Supreme Court if Harriman got in the White House. Kefauver declined.

Demo Interest Focuses On V.P.

CHICAGO—The real sleeper at this Democratic convention is the vice-presidential nomination

Behind all the talk about civil rights, a deep and genuine desire for a harmonious solution exists on both sides of the argument. But so far as the leading party figures are concerned, the vice-presidency is wide open.

Normally, that would not be a significant fact 10 days before the nomination is made. Sometimes a president runs into trouble when his vice president has become controversial, as President Eisenhower is doing now with Richard M. Nixon and President Roosevelt did in 1940 with Henry Wallace. But the presidential nominee usually names his potential successor.

Adlai Stevenson did it in 1952. He probably could do it again if he made up his mind fast and passed the word around to strategic locations.

But what he has done instead is to give the green light to all the aspirants and imply that he is waiting to be convinced of their claims and their grass-roots support. Though a Stevenson first ballot presidential nomination is in the making here, his managers are rather vaguely talking about holding conferences on the vice-presidency some time early next week.

Meantime, various aspects of the situation are vastly different from 1952.

Four years ago most Democrats were happy to let Stevenson take the lead and all the responsibility. Some figured it was a losing fight anyway. Many of the ablest Democratic senators were young and not even serving on major committees. The governorship crop was reduced in size and quality.

Those senators have been aging in the wood and so have the new governors who took nine statehouses away from the Republicans in the elections since 1952. The party, therefore, has an impressive collection of able, ambitious younger men who are eyeing the national ticket.

The President's health, combined with the fight on Nixon, affects the situation in two ways:

It makes Democrats think their nominations are worth fighting for.

It sets a mood for the convention favoring open decisions, openly arrived at.

Democrats are keenly desirous of showing the contrast between the personality of Nixon and the method of his choice. They want to play up the open convention theme in every possible way.

Being Democrats, they also may experience a slight twinge of boredom at the prospect of too much harmony.

If the party did not have an embarrassment of riches in vice-presidential timber, the picture would be different. But no one person on a long and growing list of hopefuls has all the assets. Said one veteran operator:

"I could make a powerful argument for the nomination of six men — Senators Gore, Kefauver, Humphrey, Symington and Kennedy and Mayor Wagner. I know if all are nominated that supporters of Governors Meyner of New Jersey, Leader of Pennsylvania and Clement of Tennessee will toss their names in the ring and I could argue for them, too."

Smoke Filled Room Thing Of The Past

CHICAGO—One of the TV network camera crews had a nasty brush with modern living today and came off a disgruntled loser.

The boys set up their magic boxes, lights, and strung the cables and other gear about the Blackstone hotel suite where Warren G. Harding was selected by a handful of GOP leaders in 1920 to head the party's ticket. This became the famed "smoke-filled room" of political lore.

"Now all you fellows start smoking," the brisk young man in charge of the TV set-up ordered. "We want it to look authentic; just like it was when Warren G. Harding was in here."

All the fellows loyally lighted up smokes and manfully exhaled into the room.

"Action!" the young man shouted. Lights blazed, cameras purred.

"Cut!" he cried almost immediately. There was a long consultation. The young men packed up and left in a huff.

Seems that the Blackstone is air-conditioned throughout. Its ventilation system blew the smoke out of the "smoke-filled room" before the brave lads could photograph it.

Never underestimate the power of a Democratic national committeewoman. Stunned momentarily by the news that Republican women are being urged to cook "Ike's beef stew," copying a favorite recipe of amateur chef Eisenhower, the lady Democrats rallied with "Democratic beef stew." The announced recipe:

"Start with two pounds of any of the variety of beefs that the American people have accumulated since the Eisenhower administration took office. Brownell in two tablespoons of bungled security program. Add half a dozen 100 per cent of parity carrots dangled before the farmers in the '52 campaign; one red-faced tomato canned for selling to Kansas what Kansas already owned; several conflicts of interest onions, the kind with a real strong aroma and, one cube of solid gold bouillon from the Dixon-Yates deal. Season with salty language by Charlie Wilson and peppery Howard Pyle, flavor with essence of Nixon garlic and one Knowland San Francisco Bay leaf. Place in Hoover administration pot—the one you didn't have two chickens in. Simmer in watered down defense until November 6."

Unless the heirs of Joe Miller object, this recipe will be part of a skit to be put on Monday morning by Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Record-Size Pups, Big Food Bill

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

It took only one thing for Gerda, a 1½-year-old dachshund, to change from a finicky eater to chow hound—pregnancy and three ever-hungry male pups.

She lived on a diet of liver and cooked meats till the big event took place four weeks ago Sunday. Now cereal and milk, cottage to keep her supplied in food.
cheese and horsemeat are needed

A local veterinarian declared that the pups were the largest at birth of any he had ever seen. So it is easy to see why Gerda Von Dusseldorf has changed.

The dachshund settled down to family life only after a glamorous career in show business. Under the expert handling of her agent, Stanley Tyrrell, 16, of 2210 C, she won a blue ribbon in Lincoln and two seconds in Sioux City, Ia., and Lincoln dog shows.

Stanley worked so hard on the job of showing Gerda that he won a trophy for junior showmanship handling.

Gerda has it made at home. Because she is odorless and does not shed, she is allowed to snooze on the couch and chairs. And at night she goes to bed with Stanley, snuggling up right beside him under the covers. But Gerda loves her entire family so during the night she slips into Tina Tyrrell's room for a short nap and then Tiffany Tyrrell wakes up to find Gerda in bed with him. Mr. and Mrs. Clem Tyrrell are left out of this bed-haunting circuit.

Gerda has one pet peeve—men. She sees a man and starts barking and backing away at the same time. The Tyrrells don't know the reason for this peculiar behavior but say the express company which brought her to Lincoln from Lansing, Mich., might have instilled such shyness. However, Mr. Tyrrell is an exception to the man-hating rule.

Gerda, the Tyrrells say, is an excellent house pet. And best of all, when they leave the yard Gerda will stay in her yard without needing a scolding or giving a whimper.

The Marines Don't See It That Way

No matter how the review of Marine Sgt. Matt McKeon's sentence comes out, I would like to pass on a few random considerations given me by a professional Marine colonel who stopped off the other day. There won't be any quotes. I'll just use myself as his sounding board.

A Marine is the proudest, toughest infantryman in the business. He glories in his trade and feels he is completely apart from other services. This is Marine tradition, built first by rough handling.

Boot training is strictly designed to put iron into a Marine's soul. He is stripped of dignity, of rights, of all personal privilege. He is worked to death, shorn of his hair, punished severely for trivia, drilled to desperation, and hammered on until he becomes tough.

Especially in war, drill sergeants are instructed to throw the book at the boot, to instill such hatred in the raw material that the raw material concentrates fiercely on showing up his tormenters.

He learns maneuvering under live bullets. He runs obstacle courses to toughen his muscles and improve his co-ordination. He marches quick-step under full pack for miles. He learns to go without water, and to make his way in swamps at night.

All this is against the day when the swamp is not a swamp but a jungle, and the jungle is full of cut-throats, mosquitoes, snakes, and bullets with a personal interest in his duff. He's got to be able to do everything as well as his non-com and his officers who, in turn, are supposed to do everything as well or better than the Gyrene.

So after a couple months of hammering on the boot, he is a boot no more. Now he is a Marine, and can grow his hair out, put on his snappy uniform and swagger among the girls. He is no soldier, no sailor, no airman—he is a Marine.

The moment he shifts from boot to Marine, the drill sergeant he threatened to kill becomes his best buddy, and they drink beer together and go out on the town. When raw men eventually come under his hand, he remembers everything his present buddy did to him, and improves on the technique.

Two years after boot training, hardened warriors are now laughing pridefully over the horrors of indoctrination, each man bragging about cleaning latrines with a needle, or a 25-mile march in broiling sun under full pack. What was horrible then is now a badge of pride.

As for McKeon's drinking: Show me a sergeant who won't drink when he can get it, and I'll show you a desk clerk, not a Marine. In the war, when my boys couldn't buy it, they made it. There may be articles of war against booze, but I never saw a ship or station where it couldn't be improvised.

Taking a peacetime training group on a night hike is not like flying a jet in wartime. If McKeon had a couple of shots of vodka before he took out his platoon, I fail to see that it matters, if he was sober enough to muster his men. A good Marine functions drunk as well as sober, because he is a Marine, not a Girl Scout.

I still look back on my boot-training with a great deal of satisfaction, and I got mine in peacetime before the last war when the monsters really had time to think up some ordeals for the young and soft.

When I came out of it, brown, tough and sharp, I said to myself, boy, you're just as good as anybody in the corps. That so-and-so sergeant couldn't make you chicken on anything the unprintable gave you to do.

Maybe some bad things will be eliminated by this trial, and maybe some good things will result. But I can tell you one thing:

If they ever employ a soft boot-training, you won't have Marines any more. You'll have nothing but dog-faces. And the colonel spat.

The Same Toy

Colorado Springs, Colo.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

Surely Ike isn't going through with that rumored deal of giving away 380 jet planes to Communist Tito. Is that the kind of stuff we give away as foreign aid? And the administration refused to cut the amount of this foolishness by a single farthing. It has to be so many billions out of our hide.

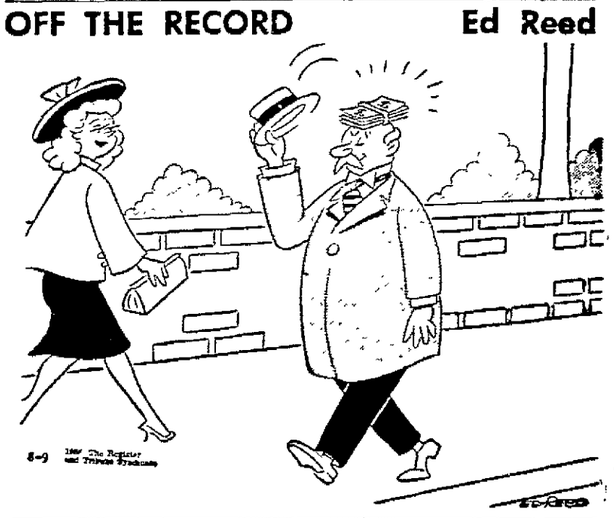

That plane deal could very well spell national suicide for us. If we give Tito planes and other war potential, does that give the Russians the right to present him with A and H-bombs? That certainly would put Europe, us, and the rest of the world in a precarious position. Oh, they wouldn't dare. Why not? If worse came to worse, they could let old Tito run the roost for awhile. If he got too arrogant for them, they could kill him off or even let him hang on for the rest of his natural life. After all, Tito's brand of Communism couldn't be any worse than that of the Chinese or the Russians.

Isn't it enough that F.D.R. and Truman had to build up Stalin? Do we now have to blow up Tito the same way? This kind of foreign policy would ordinarily be fuel in an election battle. But since both sides are vulnerable, this stuff is liable to be hushed up. If they didn't, they could hurl treason charges against each other and not be so far wrong. That's like an A-bomb though who dares to start it.

Too bad there isn't a live third party. There is need for one to bring up worthy issues. Our two parties are like kids — both always want to play with the same toy at the same time. Is there time to set up machinery for another party to enter the ring? If so, bring it on.

County To Close Detention Home; Westview, Homes Are Considered

The Lancaster County Detention Home will be closed Oct. 1, County Board Chairman Russel Brehm said Wednesday.

Plans for future housing of detained juveniles are uncertain, Brehm said, but two possibilities are being considered.

One possibility is the establishment of a juvenile detention unit in the west wing of the Westview Nursing Home, operated by the county northwest of Lincoln.

The other is the housing of juveniles in private homes on a per diem basis.

Closing of the Detention Home at 726 Rose is seen as an economy move. It is 60 to 70 years old.

The Detention Home is costing the county $9,000 a year for an average of one child a day.

Brehm had no immediate estimate of how much could be saved by closing the Detention Home.

A meeting with the District Court judges and Juvenile Probation Officer Helen Cox is planned by the County Board for next week.

Last week, the commissioners toured Westview with an eye on the possibility of a juvenile detention unit there. Mrs. Cox has been asked to furnish the Board with an estimate of acceptable facilities there.

The possibility of holding the juveniles in private homes on a per diem basis has also been discussed with Mrs. Cox.

Young Demos Pick Wayne Thompson

Wayne J. Thompson Jr., of 1951 Euclid Ave., was elected chairman of the Lancaster County Young Democrats at a meeting held Wednesday evening.

Thompson

The purpose of the special meeting was the election of officers of the organization and the discussion of the role the group is to take at the party's booth at the coming State Fair.

Elected to fill the other offices were Gary Roberts, of Lincoln, treasurer, and Juanita Henderson, of Lincoln, vice chairwoman. The secretary will be appointed at a later date.

Thompson, a business administration student at the University of Nebraska, said the Young Democrats will distribute literature and inform the public on current issues at their booth at the State Fair. They have been authorized to carry out this job by the State Central Committee of Nebraska's Democratic Party.

Governor Receives 19 Requests For Mansion Souvenirs

The governor's office has received requests from 19 persons this week who want souvenirs from the Governor's Mansion which soon will be razed to make way for the new mansion.

Most of the requests have been made for samples of wallpaper, but one person also asked for a book she could give her grandson. Another requested a piece of molding from which something useful could be made, or a paper weight.

Twelve to 15 requests had been made previous to Governor Anderson's offer last Sunday to send souvenirs to those persons wishing them.

Several pieces of furniture, drapes, bedspreads, bookshelves, books and other furnishings will be put on the auction block Thursday evening at 6:30 for the public to buy.

Wimberley To Be Buffalo County Probation Officer

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—County Judge Harvey Wilson Wednesday appointed M. L. Wimberley to be probation officer of Buffalo County.

Wimberley is a former superintendent of the Boys' Training School at Kearney and a former superintendent at the Men's Reformatory in Lincoln.

Members of the Buffalo County Board said they believe the appointment is the first of its kind, on the county level, in Nebraska.

Nebraska Units In Kentucky For Summer Training

The battalion includes 430 men and officers and there are about 75 in the tank company of the 134th Infantry Regiment from Gering.

Officials Silent On Investigation Of Woman's Death

"Investigation is progressing satisfactorily" in the death of an "unknown" woman found in Salt Creek, according to Deputy Lancaster County Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch.

However, Fahrnbruch continued to remain silent Thursday as to investigative details.

He said the report on microscopic examinations "is taking longer than anticipated." The complete autopsy report is expected to shed light on the cause of death.

Also being awaited is a FBI laboratory report expected to aid in positive identification of the woman.

—July Labor Report—

Job Holders Set Record

...Top 66½ Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — More Americans held jobs last month—66,655,000—than at any other time in the history of the country, the Commerce and Labor Departments announced Wednesday.

They reported there were 2,833,000 persons without jobs in July, virtually the same as in June. The unemployment total represents about 4 per cent of the labor force, which includes those in the armed forces.

July was the second month in which employment has climbed above the 66 million mark. There were about 66½ jobholders in June.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell credited increased building construction and rising steel production for a good part of the rise.

The latest report said the steel strike, now settled, caused only a slight increase in unemployment, due mostly to layoffs in related or allied industries.

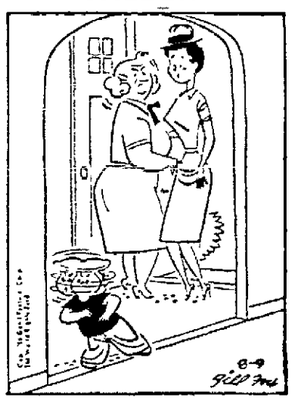

A moderate rise of joblessness among adults, the government report said, just about offset a decline in the number of teenagers seeking employment.

Agricultural employment fell seasonably by 200,000 to 7,700,000.

On the other hand nonfarm employment, including domestic, self employed and unpaid family workers, rose by about 300,000 to a record of 59 million.

Factory workers averaged 40.1 hours a week, the same as in June. This was the first time in six years that a decline between these months was not reported.

New Committee Set To Discuss City Sanitary Sewer Problems

The newly appointed city and Sanitary District 1 committee will have its first meeting Friday afternoon to discuss ways of meeting Lincoln's sanitary sewer problems.

The group will attempt to find an answer to the question of how a proposed $4 million sewer improvement can be carried out. That was the program recommended for Lincoln by Black & Veatch, consulting engineers from Kansas City, Mo.

A number of possible answers currently under consideration all hinge around enactment of a sewage usage fee.

Pay-As-You-Go

Such a fee could provide financing for a pay-as-you-go improvement program or could pay off revenue bonds issued to complete the program all at once.

Also to be settled is the question of which agency, the city or Sanitary District, will carry out the program. This question involves even the possibility of dissolving the District.

The city has the necessary authority to enact a usage fee and sell revenue bonds without a vote of the people. The District, however, would need enabling legislation from the state for such action and would still be required to submit any bond issue to a vote.

Hog's Life

OKARCHE, Okla. (P) — A hog's life on Lawrence Wittrock's farm is mighty tempting. Wittrock bought an air conditioner to put in the hog barn. Some of his sows were about to give birth and he wanted them to be comfortable.

Persistent NWU Coeds Close Their 30-Year College Careers

... To Return To Teaching School

Two persistent Nebraska Wesleyan University coeds closed their college careers when summer school ended last week.

These coeds—who are in their middle 50's—have been attending Wesleyan in both regular and summer sessions since the early 1920s.

Both majored in education and carried minors in English and social studies and both will be teaching next year, one in Belvidere and the other in Alliance.

Started In 1922

Elva Zena Mumma started the long trail to her degree in September, 1922, attended two regular sessions and then finished with summer work. She also attended Asburg College and Chicago Evangelistic Institute in 1933 and 1934.

Miss Mumma spent several years doing home missionary and child evangelism work. For the past 17 years she has been teaching in Nebraska public schools. She has also written for several magazines.

This fall she will be teaching public school music and English in Belvidere High School. She is a native of Nelson.

Mrs. Mildred Taylor McGrew started her work at Wesleyan in the summer of 1920 after graduation from Wheeler County High School in Bartlett.

NWU Family

Mrs. McGrew's brother, Charles V. Taylor, also attended Wesleyan, from 1924 to 1926, as did her son, Warren, from 1950 to 1952.

Mrs. McGrew has been teaching in Alliance and will continue there next year.

Mrs. McGrew, active in the Alliance Education Association, has been treasurer of the group and also alternate and delegate to the Delegate Assembly. She is also active in the Wesleyan Service Guild and teaches a Sunday School class.

IKE SEES 'GOOD SENSE' SOLVING SUEZ DISPUTE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower confidently predicted Wednesday that "good sense will prevail" in the Suez crisis and a solution will be found at the conference table instead of on the battlefield.

Soon after making this forecast at his news conference, Eisenhower met for half an hour with Secretary of State Dulles to go over the further development of U. S. policy, and presumably size up the latest events abroad.

These include the comment from the British Foreign Office that — in spite of extensive British and French military concentrations in the Suez area—Britain intends to settle the canal crisis by peaceful means.

Near U.S. Position

That brought the British position much closer to that of the United States, on the record. It also is in line with the general attitude expressed by Russian leaders. The Soviets have backed Egypt's nationalization of the canal but have argued that there is no issue for fighting and that, in the end "sober statesmanship" will prevail.

Eisenhower said that in making his comments he had been "very careful" not to say that he was opposed to the use of military force under any circumstances.

"I said," he then explained, "every important question in the world in which more than one nation is interested should be settled by negotiation. We have tried to substitute the conference table for the battlefield.

"Now, I don't mean to say that anyone has to surrender rights without using everything they can to preserve their rights."

At that point, however, the President flatly declined to express an opinion on whether British and French military preparations were justified in a defensive sense.

Ike Defends Conference

Eisenhower defended the policy of trying to arrive at a solution for international control of the Suez Canal through a special conference in London rather than through the U. N. Britain, with strong U. S. support and in fact at Dulles' urging, has called a conference of nations with an interest in the Suez Canal to meet in London Aug. 16.

There were reports from abroad Wednesday that Egypt will boycott the London conference. Eisenhower was asked whether, if Egypt appealed to the U. N., he would consider the U. N. an acceptable substitute for the London meeting or a suitable center for supplementary action.

"Well, of course, you always have the veto in the U. N.," he said. "Here was a matter that seemed to demand. . . a prompt (solution) and I think to get the nations who, by their maritime activity, by the character of their economy were most interested, to get them together, was a better method at the moment."

Highway 66 crosses the Continental Divide on a high, grassy plateau in New Mexico. And from there to Flagstaff, Arizona, the highway merchants assault you with invitations to stop and be bewildered.

The signs whizz by. Great red-painted signs on the lonesome plains.

Stop 1 mile!" Whizzz. "real moccassins!" Whizzzzz. "See live gila monsters!" Whizzzzz. "The perils of the desert???" Whizzzzz. "Can you bear to see it?" Whizzzzzz. "World's most horrible spectacle!" "Indian Jewelry." Whizzzzz. "The monster may make you faint!" Whizzzzz. "Soft drinks."

The chance to get real moccasins, soft drinks and swoon at the same time seemed too good to miss.

It turned out to be a sad little soft drink stand. A couple of Indian cowboys stood around the filling station wearing big blue hats the Navajos seem to prefer.

The lady gave me a coke and said it would cost 15 cents to view the "Can You Bear It?" Smelling salts, I presume, were extra.

I went through the little gate into a little yard. There were several cages around. There was a bored coyote, labeled, "Ferocious Plains Wolf. Do Not Touch."

There was a raccoon washing his hands in the little trough in his cage.

A very smelly alligator in a concrete trough. He was taking a nap.

A wire box full of mean-looking rattlesnakes. "Peril of The Desert!"

A dog labeled, "Wild Dog From Africa. Dangerous."

A cage full of white rabbits. Unlabeled

A bobcat looking over the rabbits. Possibly dividing them mentally into rabbit steaks.

A man came by with a plate of hamburger for the wild dog. The wild dog looked pleased.

"Don't touch them rattlers," he said. "They know me. But they might bite you."

This was the most unnecessary advice I have heard since grandma told me not to get too close to the edge of Niagara falls.

The red arrows said: "This Way! Prepare Yourself!"

I prepared myself with a swig of coke.

"World's Most Horrible Spectacle! Can You Bear It?"

The most horrible spectacle was in a glass case.

It was an Indian lady. She had been buried a long, long time and was pretty dry. Not so horrible. Just so dry. The sign over the case said:

Buried 5000 Years Ago! The Mystery of The Desert!"

There was a framed bit of printing underneath that said the lady roamed the desert many years ago. It said nothing about a mystery. I guess the mystery was why she roamed such an unrewarding country instead of playing the dice table at Las Vegas.

I went downstairs and gave the lady my empty coke bottle. She asked how did I like it?

I said I like it fine. Though I did not feel faint. I asked where did she uncover the most horrible spectacle.

"Man came through here about six years ago. He had three of them he got somewhere. He was selling them for $50. Gave you the little printed pamphlet to go with it." She said she and her husband picked out this one after looking over the three dry roamers.

LOYAL TROOPS CLOSE IN ON REBELS IN ECUADOR

QUITO Ecuador (AP) — Loyal troops close in on a rebellion in western Ecuador's Manabi Province have recaptured the provincial capital Portoviejo, and put rebel leaders to flight the government announced Wednesday.

All Ecuador has been politically restless since Ecuador's Liberal parties lost the presidential election last June.

Mayor Polot Ortiz said Jose Maria Plaza a civilian leader of the rebellion who was a Liberal party vice presidential candidate in June, fled to the mountains and the rebel military chieftain withdrew his forces from Portoviejo to the city of Chone.

Hold Two Cities

The government radio said the rebels now held only the cities of Chone and Jipijapa and that loyal troops had surrounded Chone.

The government rushed infantry units to the area from nearby garrisons. A rebel broadcast said strafing planes killed a number of "mothers and defenseless children" in Portoviejo and other provincial towns.

"Insignificant"

Outgoing President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra said in a broadcast the rebellion was led by "a few despicable high-ranking officers" along with Maria Plaza. He called the uprising insignificant.

Portoviejo is a town of 20,000, a trading center 150 miles southwest of Quito.

SUBURBIA

Those Nice Mornings!

WE LOVE mornings because we like a morning newspaper—and especially do we love a morning AND a newspaper when there's a wide assortment of interesting this and that to talk about.

Take the current ayem, for instance — There's news galore and covers considerable territory — guests, homecomers, parties, travelers — and on and on.

THINK we'll begin with the Hancock family which seems to be particularly active just at their time — We hear that Miss Sylvia Hancock will be arriving on Monday from Rochester, Minn., where she is a student nurse, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Hancock. On Wednesday Mrs. Hancock and her daughter will leave for a week's holiday on the east coast after which they will return to Lincoln where Miss Hancock will remain until early September.

Another guest at the home of Mrs. Hancock is her son, Roger Hancock who was graduated from Yale University and who, the coming year, will be a member of the faculty at Ohio State University. Mr. Hancock also will linger in Lincoln until September.

We complete the news of the Hancock family with news of Mr. and Mrs. William Bouwsma and their family who have been the guests of Mrs. Bouwsma's mother for the past three weeks. The Bouwsmas are leaving next Tuesday for Berkeley, Calif., where Mr. Bouwsma will join the faculty at the University of California.

INVITATIONS were in the Wednesday mail for a morning coffee for which Mrs. Oliver Brown will be hostess on Friday, Aug. 17, when she compliments bride-elect Miss Nancy Swanson whose marriage to Roger von Gillern will take place on Sept. 15. Miss Swanson will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

* * *

AND THEN we heard that on Saturday, Aug. 18, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Berger (the former Barbara Loucks) of Omaha will be host and hostess at an hors d' oeuvres party at their home in Omaha when they honor Miss Kay Kinsey and her fiance, Jerry Hall of Omaha, whose marriage will take place on Sept. 21. A number of guests from Lincoln will be at the party.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens and their daughter, Miss Barbara Stephens are having a holiday at their summer home at Pelican Lake, Minn.

VACATION begins today for Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Bayley and their small daughter, Susan, who are leaving for Houston, Tex., where they will be the guests of Mrs. Bayley's brother-in-law and sister, Lt. and Mrs. Murray Backhaus and their two children, Robin and Cindy, Mrs. Backhaus is the former Dixie Borgaard, Alpha Chi Omega at Nebraska.

* * *

BACK home again are Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer who have returned from Whitefish Lake, Minn., where they spent several days as the guests of Mrs. Greer's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Aitken at their summer home. The Greer smallfry — Penny and Tag—had a vacation, too — They were the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken during their parents absence.

* * *

HEAR THAT Mr. and Mrs. James Olson and their two daughters, Elizabeth and Sarah, have returned home from Estes Park, Colo., where they spent two weeks as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Normar Shaw and their three children, Leslie, Gregory and Christie. Mr. Olson and daughter Elizabeth, we hear, had some extra-curricular vacation activity—they climbed Hallett's Peak.

Board Plans Luncheon

A meeting of the board of the Lancaster County Child Guidance board has been planned for Thursday noon at the Hotel Cornhusker. The members will meet for luncheon preceding the business session.

DAR Chairmen Named

Mrs. H. L. Blackledge of Kearney, state regent of the Nebraska Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has appointed several members of Deborah Avery Chapter in Lincoln as state committee chairmen for the coming year.

Serving in state offices will be Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, program chairman; Mrs. B. C. McLean, Approved Schools; and Mrs. Helen Wallace, membership chairman. State librarian is Mrs. G. A. Ackerman.

Arnot, telephone; and Mrs. Thomas Swearingen, yearbook.

LAFB Club

Mrs. Frederick Ahola was hostess Tuesday evening to the members of the Lincoln Air Force Base Airmen's Wives Club, who met to discuss plans for a membership drive.

Family Guests From Abroad

Although it could not be said that there's a complete family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sorenson, we can say that at least two members of the family have come from exceedingly far-away places to pay a visit.

Mrs. Derek Singer (the former Ruth Sorenson) and her young daughter, Victoria Anne, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson, as are Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Sorenson and her two children, Ann Christine and Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Singer and their daughter arrived in the States very recently from LaPaz, Bolivia, S. A., where Mr. Singer has been the CARE representative—and Mrs. Sorenson and her children have come from Beirut, Lebanon, where Mr. Sorenson has been with the United States Information Service during the past four years.

Mr. Sorenson has been in Washington, D. C., since January, and he and his family will be transferred to the Middle East some time later this month or early September.

Mr. Singer now is in New York also awaiting orders for a transfer.

Madam Chairman

AFTERNOON

Lancaster County Child Guidance board, noon luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker.

EVENING

Sorority Has Watermelon Feed

When the members of Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi business girls sorority met for their annual "baseball" party Tuesday evening there was more in store for them than attending the Lincoln Chiefs' ballgame in a group. Following the game, the entire chapter was entertained at a watermelon "feed" at the home of Mrs. Bill Hartley.

The party has become an annual mid-summer event for the chapter and was planned by the chapter president, Miss Gladys Hablitzel.

3 Greek Cypriots Hanged As Defiant Inmates Chant

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Thursday) (AP) — Three young Greek Cypriots were hanged today for murder in terrorist acts against the British.

The three went to their deaths at the same time on a triple gallows behind the massive walls of Nicosia Central Prison.

The identities of the hangmen were kept a closely gruaded secret to prevent reprisals by Greek Cypriot nationalists.

Listened to Records

A Greek Orthodox priest administered last sacraments and reported the men waited execution calmly. One listened to Beethoven and Bach records, the doomed man's last request, and voiced regret for the sorrow caused his parents.

The condemned rebels were Andreas Zakkos, 25, and Charilaos Michael and Iacovos Patatsos, both 22.

Zakkos and Michael were sentenced for ambushing and killing a British army driver. Patatsos was convicted of slaying a Turkish policeman.

The British hanged two extremists last May.

As the night wore on, Nicosia prison inmates demonstrated noisily with chants of "EOKA, EOKA" and singing the Greek national anthem.

Death To Harding

As the trap was sprung for the three men, the prisoners redoubled their chanting and kept up a chorus of shouts: "Hurray for EOKA, long live enosis — union with Greece—death to Harding, down with England."

The official communique announcing the execution was issued at 3 a.m., shortly after the departure of two carloads of special police from a gate of the separate death cell wing. The group had arrived about 40 minutes before the hanging. It was believed the official hangmen were among them.

At Larnaca, on the south coast, 2,200 construction workers walked off the job at British military buildings in protest against the executions. About 350 political prisoners at a detention camp outside Nicosia went on a 24-hour protest hunger strike.

There were reports a general islandwide strike might be called Thursday.

Nicosia itself was sullen and tense as the severe heat of the day lingered into the night. Wednesday's 114 degrees made it the hottest day in 14 years.

Hot, Dry Weather Curtails Hiring

Continued hot, dry weather curtailed farm hiring activity in Nebraska still further last week, the State Employment Service reported.

Farmers in several parts of eastern Nebraska were registering for non-farm jobs.

Some are going to Colorado to assist with the peach harvest as a means of supplementing family income.

Wild hay harvest in the Sandhills region is the principal farm activity in the state now.

Small Affair—Just 400

'Hostess With Mostest' Plans Another Shindig

CHICAGO (AP) — Perle Mesta made the Democratic National Convention official Wednesday. She announced that she's going to give a party.

It will be a modest little affair, she said firmly—not more than 400 guests at the outside. In other words, nothing like the shindig she threw here four years ago. Mrs. Mesta, who proudly acknowledges the title of "hostess with the mostest," shudders delicately at the memory of the 1952 affair.

"I overestimated," she told a news conference. "There were 700 people there. They were hanging from the rafters. It was about 300 too many. I didn't have room for my friends."

Cost? Who Knows

Rumor had it that the '52 affair cost Mrs. Mesta somewhere between $20,000 and $35,000. The hostess herself said she hadn't the remotest idea what the figure was.

"I never know what a party costs," she commented.

Mrs. Mesta, minister to Luxembourg during the Truman administration and the Democrats' semiofficial hostess in Washington, sipped coffee as she received the press in a hotel suite. She wore a zebra-patterned cotton suit and a big white tulle hat.

Who's Coming

Who's coming to her party?

Just about everybody who is anybody among the Democrats, it developed—former President Truman, all the potential candidates for president and vice president, entertainers like Frank Sinatra and Phil Reagan.

Mrs. Mesta said she has no favorite candidate for the presidential nomination but does have a personal choice for the No. 2 spot—Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, the convention keynoter.

"I think he's terrific," she said, with the fervor of a teen-ager.

July Circulation At Libraries Up 11,000 Over 1955

Book circulation at the Lincoln City Libraries for July was 53,238, an increase of 11,021 over the same month last year.

The total circulation of books, records and audio visual materials at all libraries was 54,597 for July 1956, an increase of 11,101 over July 1955. Record circulation decreased from 1,028 in July 1955 to 959, but the total registration of patrons increased by 48.

The total acquisitions of library materials for the month was 1,263.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Politics are politics and can be tight or loose like a hired tuxedo. But every candidate thinks it fits him fine.

We have seen fellows run for the nomination who couldn't be elected groundkeeper in the Bad Lands of Dakota. The neatest example of frustrated astigmatism was William Chinnings Bryan.

Chinnings was defeated in more ways than his pet prohibition. But the strangest wallopus of all hatched from a cartoon in the New York Journal drawn by Tom Powers.

Chinnings wore his hair long in an obscure over his velvet collar. Powers put an egg in the back-sweep making it into a bird-nest. It appeared during a Chicago convention and Chinnings was an extinct gosling.

The oddest decalcamania we ever spotted in Chicago was Dr. Nick Murray Butler seated in a Tammany delegation. The old Nick was another bird who tried for the point after touchdown before he made the goal.

Boston Fans Contribute To Payment Of Ted's Fine

Williams Says He'd Do It Again

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's tempestuous Ted Williams unleashed his pent-up emotions in a tremendous home run Wednesday night against Baltimore in his first appearance since the spitting episode which cost him the heaviest fine in major league history.

As Ted neared the dugout after his 13th homer of the season, he clasped a hand over his mouth as if to avoid the possibility of another spitting incident.

The highly-keyed Williams walloped Connie Johnson's 1-1 pitch 20 rows into the right field seats beyond the 420-foot mark. The blow gave the Red Sox a 3-2 lead.

Remorseless Ted had drawn loud acclaim from a near-capacity crowd at Fenway Park at the outset.

Mickey Vernon followed Ted's sixth-inning bases-empty drive with a three-run homer in the eighth that sealed the Orioles' fate and spelled lefty Mel Parnell's sixth pitching triumph.

When the Boston Red Sox slugger was announced in the starting lineup over the public address system a shouting ovation followed. Earlier in the day some of the fans had begun fund drives to help Williams pay his $5,000 penalty.

A faint trace of the boos which had sent Williams on the most recent of his saliva attacks Tuesday were muffled Wednesday night by his reception from the majority of the "Family Night" crowd.

Far From Sorry

Williams was far from sorry about his actions.

"I'll do the same thing over again if I get mad enough," Terrible Ted said on the field before the game. "I was right (referring to his spitting toward the stands Tuesday).

"If I could afford it, I'd pay a $5,000 fine every day to do the same things," he continued. "I wouldn't be here tonight if I could afford the fine."

Charles Collatos, a state labor relations commissioner and a member of the American Legion national executive committee, announced he had opened an account at the Rockland Atlas National Bank for contributions to Williams. Joseph Donovan, an executive vice president of the bank, was made treasurer of the fund.

Earlier in the day, Collatos had started the money flow by mailing a $25 check to Williams.

In Northampton, Mass., donation containers labeled "Help Ted Williams Pay His Fine" were placed on counters in a cafe and a tobacco shop.

One income tax specialist, basing his calculations on Ted's reported $100,000 a year salary, said the federal government would absorb about $3,500 of the fine and Williams only $1,500.

Braves Split With Cards

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Herman Wehmeier won his own game with a 10th-inning single Wednesday night as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in the finals of a twi-night double-header after the Braves had taken the opener, 10-1.

Wehmeier's hit off the glove of loser Lew Burdette scored Bobby DelGreco who had doubled.

Joe Adcock hit three homers for the Braves in the twin bill, getting a pair in the opener and another, his 27th of the season, in the nightcap.

Medalist Rallies To Win On Final Holes, 3 And 2

By RON SPEER
Star Sports Staff Member

Lincoln golfers Wednesday proved that they aren't a bunch of duffers, despite the humiliating scores tallied in Monday's qualifying round.

The linksters, blessed with near-perfect weather and a course in wonderful condition, fired several sub-par rounds during the first round of match play in the Men's City golf tournament at the Lincoln Country Club.

Only the championship and first flights played Wednesday, and most of the favorites got by unscathed.

Bill Gibson Sr. tossed a real scare into Medalist Gene Chadwell, but the veteran Chadwell rallied on the final holes to win 3 and 2.

Chadwell was three up after the front nine, and it looked like he had the match sewed up. But Gibson grabbed honors on No. 10, 11 and 12 and tied the battle.

Chadwell settled the issue in a hurry then by winning the next three holes and the match. His score for the round was 71.

Biggest upset of the first round was the 3 and 2 whipping handed Stan Stroh by Lou Roper. Stroh is annually a strong contender for the city crown.

Tom Ludwig also scored an upset by knocking off Don Pegler Jr., one up. Ludwig fired a 72—the best score of his career — to oust Pegler Jr.

Broken Putter

Ludwig broke his putter on the first nine but bought a new one and used it over the back nine with startling success to win the match.

Bob Lau and Sam Spomer must be credited with the best comebacks of the day. Lau — playing Tom Harrison—was two down on the 11th but won five straight holes to win the match.

Sam Spomer, paired against brother Dick, was about to toss in the sponge after he was four holes down on the eighth hole.

But the chunky Sam hurried through the back nine with a 34 and nipped Dick one up. Sam's medal score was 72.

Whitie Reed and Bill Mowbray Jr., pre-tourney title favorites with Chadwell, both won easily Wednesday. Reed whipped Charles Boswell, 5 and 4, and Mowbray shellacked Jim Burke, 9 and 7.

Today matches in all flights will be staged, with the matches continuing through Sunday.

Mantle Hits Number 38, N.Y. Romps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mickey Mantle and his homer-hitting mates powered the New York Yankees back on a winning track Wednesday night as the American League leaders overwhelmed Washington, 12-2.

Mantle slammed his 38th home run of the season to establish a personal record and shoot him nine games ahead of the pace Babe Ruth set in blasting 60 over the fences in 1927.

Thomas' Homer Peps Early Pirate Outburst

PITTSBURGH (AP) — With Frank Thomas belting a three-run homer to climax a five-run first-inning outburst, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers 8-5 Wednesday night. The Dodgers scored three of their runs in the ninth inning as they knocked veteran Red Munger out of the box but he got credit for his third victory in five decisions.

Dodger starter Roger Craig, who had a 10-6 record, proved no problem to the lowly Pirates.

Lee Walls, who later smashed two doubles and a single, opened the first inning with a walk and went to second as Bob Clemente beat out a bunt. Second baseman Junior Gilliam then threw wide to second after picking up Dale Long's grounder, loading the bases. Bill Virdon singled home one run and another came on Dick Groat's long sacrifice fly. That set the stage for Thomas to power his 17th homer over the left field wall.

Craig went to the showers in the fourth when he walked Munger and gave up a double to Walls. The Pirates got one run on an infield out as Don Bessent came on in relief.

Lollar's Late Smash Boosts White Sox Past Indians, 7-6

CHICAGO (AP) — Sherman Lollar smashed his eighth homer of the season into the left field upper deck with one out in the last of the 14th inning Wednesday night, giving the Chicago White Sox a 7-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Lollar's smash off Cal McLish, fourth cleveland pitcher, brought a sudden end to a marathon match after 3 hours and 58 minutes. It also brought victory to Gerry Staley, who held the Tribe to three hits in the last five innings.

Billy Pierce, seeking his 18th victory, and Hank Aguirre were the starting pitchers, both retiring after seven innings. Each side employed four hurlers, the Indians using Herb Score for four innings in his first relief appearance of the year.

Aguirre delivered the big blow in a four-run Indian uprising in the second inning. Aguirre, who had struck out his previous seven times at bat this season, delivered a bases-loaded single with two out. A homer by Rocky Colavito was the only other run Pierce allowed until he went out for a pinch batter.

Pacific Coast Conference Partially Reinstates UCLA, USC Ineligibles

PORTLAND (AP) — The Pacific Coast Conference Wednesday eased the ineligibility penalties against football players at UCLA and Southern California by announcing that seniors affected will be permitted to play in five consecutive games in 1956.

The President's Council followed this with a stern warning that any institution or probation which fails to clean house before next May "shall be expelled from the conference as of Aug. 1, 1957."

Four schools are on probation—UCLA for three years, Washington and USC for two and California for one year.

Dr. Glenn Seaborg, conference spokesman, revealed that the self-examination reports brought penalty changes to only three schools.

The University of Washington told the conference it had obtained the names of four football players who received substantial financial aid not sanctioned by the PCC code, and declared the quartet totally ineligible.

The conference said the penalty was too harsh and modified it to one year of lost eligibility for each student. They were not named, but it was disclosed that freshmen and varsity men were affected.

The conference extended to Sept. 20 the deadline before which UCLA and Washington could submit evidence showing that no more than five students in a sport other than football had received illegal financial aid.

If this is done, the probations against those sports will be removed. The probations at Southern California and California did not include sports other than football.

It was disclosed also that 34 students were involved in the California situation. Previously the total had been announced as 29. The Conference docked five students one year of eligibility each, and the other 29 can regain eligibility by repaying loans and tuition payments.

The students declared ineligible at California and Washington and ordered to repay loans by Sept. 1 will lose one year of eligibility in case repayment is not made. Previously they were to have lost all eligibility.

Diz Sends Beatrice Kids 12 Souvenirs

BEATRICE (AP) — The Beatrice VFW Midget baseball club will carry some unusual good luck pieces with them when they leave here Aug. 17 for the VFW International Teener baseball tournament at Hershey, Pa.

Al Riddington of the Beatrice Sun said he received a phone call from Dizzy Dean, the former major league pitching star now a baseball telecaster, confirming that Dean will send the Beatrice team a dozen autographed baseballs and his good wishes for their coming tournament.

The Beatrice midgets defending champions in the international tournament, recently won their return ticket to the event by taking a six-state regional at Huron, S. D.

Beatrice residents already have raised by contribution all but $500 of the $2,000 needed to send them to the Hershey tournament. They will play their first game Aug. 20 but their opponent has not been announced.

Jockey Returns After 12 Years

Frank Erb of York (right) welcomes home his son, Dave, who piloted Needles to victory in this years Kentucky Derby. Dave hadn't been back to York in 12 years. (Star Staff Photo).

Nebraska's Derby-Winning Jockey Erb Home After 12-Year Absence

Jockey Dave Erb, who parlayed an eighth-grade education and determination into a $70,000 yearly income and a Kentucky Derby win, stopped in Lincoln Wednesday night while en route to a York, Neb., homecoming.

Erb was met at the airport by his father, Frank Erb, and six other York residents. After talking with reporters they left for York and a parade and reception in Erb's honor. The 32-year-old jockey, who rode his first winner in 1938 at Lincoln's State Fair Grounds Track, hadn't been home to York in 12 years.

Erb said winning this year's Kentucky Derby aboard Needles was his biggest thrill. "It's a goal that all riders aim for," he said, "and it's a wonderful satisfaction to achieve it. It took me 16 years."

He said 1956 has been his best year, and pointed to the five $100,000 races he's ridden winners in to prove it. Only Wednesday he won the $20,000 Misty Isle Stakes aboard Pucker Up in Chicago.

Dave thinks Needles and Swoon's Son, his leading mounts in recent months, both have "every opportunity and the qualifications" to be as good as record-money-winner Nashua.

Needles and Swoon's Son are both entered in the $100,000 American Derby in Chicago Aug. 18th, and he had to choose which to ride. "I chose Needles," he said, "because he's proved he can go that (one and three-sixteenths miles) distance. I'm sure Swoon's Son also can, but he's never proved it."

To aspiring young jockeys, he advised: "It's a rough road to hoe. You must live, eat and breathe it to be a success—there is no in between. But get your education first so you'll know how to take care of your winnings."

Hastings Wins Midget Crown, Juniors Postponed

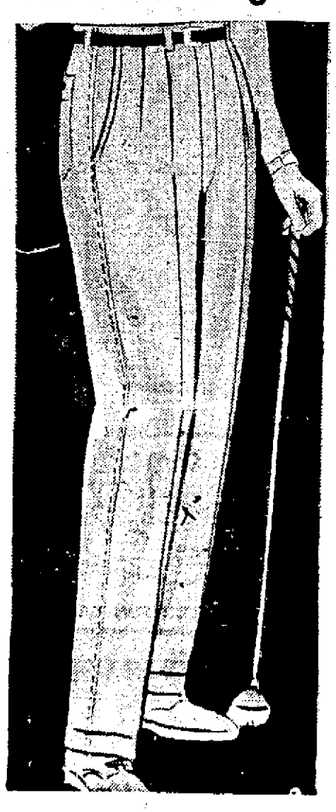

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—Hastings won the Nebraska American Legion Midget baseball championship Wednesday night with a 4 to 2 victory over Omaha Kiwanis.

The junior division game between Hastings and Central City was postponed until Thursday night. A heavy afternoon rain had made the field so muddy only one game could be played Wednesday night.

Intruder Cops Hambletonian

By JOHN CHANDLER

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP) — The Intruder, who was unable to race last year because of illness, scored a surprise victory over 19 other classy 3-year-old trotters Wednesday in the $100,603.99 Hambletonian Stakes at Good Time Park.

It required three heats to decide the world-famous sulky derby. The favored Egyptian Princess failed in her quest to become queen of the trotters after suffering a hoof injury in the rough first dash around the triangular one-mile course.

The Intruder is owned by the Allwood Stable of Leonard J. Buck, a New York mining engineer who has a farm at Far Hills, N. J. The handsome brown son of Scotland-Mighty Margaret, by Volomite, finished 11th in the first dash won by Mrs. Dave R. Johnston's Valiant Rodney, from Charlotte, N. C.

Rich Payoff

But when the chips were down, the Jersey colt had the old bounce that brought him first money of $59,155.15—second richest purse to the winner since the race was inaugurated in 1926.

Ned Bower, who drove in his first Hambletonian this pleasant, sunny afternoon, also helped himself to a birthday present by whipping The Intruder to victory in the second and third heats before a screaming crowd assembled under the orange and blue awnings at Good Time Park. Power, a native of Ravenna, Ohio, will be 33 Thursday.

Brown Scores Quick Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Henry (Toothpick) Brown of Philadelphia unleashed a lightning-quick combination to knock out L. C. Morgan of Youngstown, Ohio, in 1:54 of the first round in their scheduled 10-round lightweight bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Brown, reportedly a 7-5 favorite in a late switch of odds, caught Morgan with a right to the body and then finished him with a left to the jaw.

Morgan, previously a 2-1 favorite, slumped as though sledgehammered. He struggled feebly to get up as referee Walt Brightmore tolled the 10-count.

Busy Robbie Wins Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Robin Roberts pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to his fourth victory in 10 days Wednesday 8-3, despite 10 New York Giant hits. Ted Kazanski smashed an inside-the-park grand slam homer and Stan Lopata and Willie Jones also homered off loser Jim Hearn. Kazanski drove in five runs and Jones scored four times.

With Manager Bill Rigney suspended for three days and fined $50 as the result of Tuesday night's joust with Umpire Bill Jackowski, Coach Bucky Walters ran the Giants.

Homer Better Than First Cigar—

Lincolnites Fare Well In Pro Ball

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

This year Lincoln high schools have sent four representatives to professional baseball, something of a record for the Capital City.

As a group, these four lads are giving a good account of themselves in organized ball. They played with and against each other during their Lincoln careers, but now they are scattered.

The four are Gary Smith, Bill Bergstraesser and Dick (Yogi) Hergenrader from Lincoln High, and Rudy Stoehr from Northeast.

Smith, Hergenrader and Bergstraeser were teammates at Lincoln High and on the now defunct Elks Legion team. Yogi and Bergstraesser were teammates on the 1954 Lincoln Optimists, and Stoehr teamed with Hergenrader on the '55 Optimist club.

All four are now in Class D, the lowest echelon of organized ball. But all four may go higher next year.

Here's how they are doing:

Gary Smith — The agile, hard-hitting infielder is with the Chicago Cubs' Crestview, Fla farm club in the Alabama - Florida League. Although the team is in fifth place, "Smitty" is doing a fine job.

He was sent to Crestview from Paris, Ill. of the Midwest League so he could play regularly at shortstop. With Crestview he is hitting nearly .300 and has hit a few home runs.

The first of his homers, according to Gary's father, E. O. Smith, brought him both joy and grief.

Gary's manager gave him a cigar after his first homer, and his teammates made him smoke it. Smith, by the way, is a non-smoker and didn't enjoy the cigar as much as the home run.

Bill Bergstraesser — The fireballing right-handed pitcher was the first of the four to sign. The Milwaukee Braves sent him to their Leesburg, Fla. farm in the Florida State League.

Leesburg is lagging in the second division but Bergstraesser has been pitching well enough to earn a possible promotion to Class B next year.

At last report Bergstraesser had a 4-8 record but had lost five straight one-run decisions. One of these was a four-hitter which he lost 2-1; two others were 3-2 defeats.

Bill has recorded 117 strikeouts in 123 innings.

Rudy Stoehr — The lanky ex-Northeast basketball and baseball star signed with the New York Yankees and was sent to their Kearney farm club in the Nebraska State League.

Rudy's first efforts in the "Rookie League" haven't been blessed with success but according to Bob Van Tine, sports editor of the Kearney Hub, "Manager Randy Gumpert is working with the tall fireballer daily and rates him a good prospect.

"He figures Rudy will do fine before the season ends and can advance in baseball."

First base coach Jake Fitler of the Brooklyn Dodgers began his career in organized baseball as a shortstop with Jackson, Mich., in 1913.

Stoehr, at last report, had pitched a total of eight innings, walked seven, struck out five, given up 10 hits and had an earned run average of 10.17. He doubled in his first time at bat in pro ball — something a pitcher isn't likely to forget.

Yogi Hergenrader — Of the four, Yogi received the most publicity in his high school career.

Hergenrader received offers from nine clubs but chose the Boston Red Sox, who signed him for their Nebraska State League club at Lexington. He started the NSL season at second base for Lex.

Yogi has been hitting the ball hard but has run into a problem that plagues many good hitters at times — the hits just aren't dropping.

His batting average is now .242. He's had several triples and is hitting the long ball consistently, but "right at somebody."

He sufferd a sprained ankle recently but is recovering rapidly. The injury occurred on a freak play.

Hergenrader was on first and a teammate bunted. The ball popped in the air and Yogi waited to see if it would fall.

When it did he hustled to second and started to slide. The infielder who had fielded the ball threw wildly past second and Yogi was hurt as he tried to check his slide and take another base.

Fred Hergenrader, Yogi's father, reports that "Yog" will be available for action soon. Yogi and his shortstop teammate were the NSL's top double-play combination before the injury.

RAY LIND . . . Biggest catch.

Brown Counts On Kansas Rookies

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — With regular linebacker Chuck Noll on the injured list, Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns said Wednesday he will start one of two Kansas rookies in the spot against the College All-Stars Friday.

Noll injured a heel last week and it remains extremely sore.

Galen Fiss, linebacker for the University of Kansas before he was an Air Force lieutenant, and Jim Furey, Kansas State star who wants to be a lawyer, will get Noll's assignment.

Narrows Provides Good Fishing For Local Group

A Lincoln group has found an excellent spot for lake trout fishing at the Taltheilei Narrows on Great Slave Lake, Northwest Territory, Canada.

The latest excursion to these northern waters by the local group consisting of E. H. Hammond, Ervin Peterson, Ray, V. Lind and C. M. "Tiney" Chenoweth netted several hundred trout which aggregated over a ton in weight. Most of the fish caught were thrown back into the water. These "throw-backs" weighed up to sixteen pounds on the average.

Fish caught by the group weighing between seventeen and thirty pounds were retained, part of which were smoked and the rest filleted and returned to the states fresh. The group returned with an aggregate of over 400 pounds of fresh fillets and smoked fish.

Ray Lind came up with the biggest catch of the trip, a 30-pound and 10-ounce trout which, according to Hammond, who has made the trip annually since 1930, was the largest ever caught in this area. The monster measured 44 inches in length and battled for 50 minutes before finally being pulled in.

The Narrows, where this fishing is available, is accessable only by air of by boat and is located approximately 140 miles northeast of a small mining settlement on the north side of the Great Slave Lake called Yellowknife.

Here, winter temperatures of 60 to 70 below zero are common and the permanent frost extends from a depth of 100 feet to 300 feet below the surface. There are about 20 hours of sunshine during the summer days of July and August.

The Narrows are located about 200 miles from the Arctic Circle and about 2,600 miles from Lincoln.

Midget Football Registration Set

Lincoln's most enthusiastic athletes will soon be packing their baseball gloves away for a year and switching their attention to the gridiron.

Registration for the City Midget Football League will be held Saturday.

The league, sponsored by the Lincoln Jaycees, is for boys 10 to 13 who weigh from 80 to 105 pounds. Maximum weight during the season is 110 pounds.

The teams and registration times and locations are:

Northeast, 1-2 p.m., ball diamond, 62nd and Baldwin, Downtown, 4-5 p.m., Whittier Junior High; Leon's, 4-5 p.m., Leon's Market, and Roberts, 4-5 p.m., Roberts Dairy.

Free physical examinations will be held at 7 p.m., August 16, at the Chamber of Commerce building.

NEBRASKA PENITENTIARY CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM COST $375,000 IN THE PAST 16 MONTHS

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

In the past 16 months the Nebraska penitentiary either has completed or gotten underway a construction program which will cost aproximately $375,000.

Money for these projects comes out of two separate funds—the state's 1.1 mill levy 10-year building fund and the Penitentiary's Prison Industries fund.

The work falls into three categories: projects totaling $287,535.45 had been planned earlier but were expedited due to the riots last year; another $84,474.29 was spent on projects that have progressed according to schedule, and $2,194.58 was spent as a direct result of the riots.

Of the total, $305,829 31 will come out of the state's institutional mill levy building fund and $68,375.01 out of Prison Industries funds.

In the "planned but expedited" category are:

Maximum Security Building: Most costly of all the projects, this cost $156.123.90. Just completed, it is believed to be one of the finest maximum security buildings of any penal institution in the country. It replaces the old "jail" or "hole," which had drawn heavy criticism from many quarters.

The one-story, tan brick building covers an area of 8,300 square feet and contains 36 cells, four of which are designed to provide maximum, maximum security. Each cell door is operated electrically and can be opened or closed individually, or in any combination desired, from a control panel outside the cell blocks.

Improvement of Utilities: Now underway, this will cost an estimated $65.000.

Water Systems: Two new wells have been added, new distribution mains have been constructed, and all valves are now outside the prison walls. During the August 16 arson riot a four-inch water main was broken and the water gushed forth for hours unchecked until Board of Control engineers were able to enter the prison yard to shut off the valve. With the replacement of valves outside the walls, a similar incident cannot occur. Cost, $34,000.

Steam System and Storm and Sanitary Sewers: Work is now underway. Cost, $17,000.

Electrical System: A new transformer station and control switches have been placed outside the walls. Here again a case of expedition because convicts were able to reach the electrical control system during the August 16 riots and turn off lights, thus seriously hampering efforts to quell the outbreak. Cost, $14,000.

Prison Industries Building: This is a 300' x 100' one-story structure of concrete block which will house the furniture factory, shops to recondition furniture; mattress factory; broom factory, and tobacco factory. Either the print shop and sheet metal shop or machine shop will also be located in this building. Cost, $48,000.

The Board of Control also plans to construct another prison industries building of similar size and design. It probably will be built in sections to provide space as needed.

Cannery Building: This one-story, concrete block structure will house a stepped-up cannery project which will turn out 8,000 to 9.000 number ten cans of vegetables and fruits daily during the canning season. Under the present plans, the cannery will be able to provide the bulk of these foodstuffs for all state institutions. Total estimated cost, $16,000.

The following projects were directly caused by the riots:

Emergency repairs to the old segregation building: Cost $1,832.31.

Inflammable Storage Building: Small, one-story, concrete block structure which houses paint, paint thinner, lacquer, varnish, shellac, etc. The August 16 fire was prolonged by the series of explosions resulting from these easily accessible explosive. The new building is outside the fence. Cost, $362.27.

Projects planned before the riots:

Sewer connection from dairy and creamery to Sanitary District main sewer. This work eliminated old septic tanks and filters. $914.96.

Waterproof building walls. $3,600 60.

Revamping of standby electrical connections to connect directly with Board of Control transmission lines and bypass power plant. $3,016.97.

West Cell Block equipment and repairs. $49,340.88.

East Cell Block repairs. $1,591.57.

Guard Tower to replace old "crows nest" tower on the south side of the cell block building. $1,600.00.

Kitchen and dining room remodeling to provide cafeteria service to the cell blocks, repair and modernize the building, and equip the cooking, serving and dining areas. $5,397.17.

Work will soon begin on a 300,000 gallon reservoir for additional water storage. This will increase storage for emergency domestic and fire service and also provide fire and domestic water supply storage for the new Highway Department shops proposed for construction one-quarter mile south of the Penitentiary. Total estimated cost: $15,000.

A lumber shed also has been constructed outside the prison fence. More than $11,000 worth of lumber was destroyed in the August fire. Warden Joseph Bovey said such a building was planned prior to the fire to prevent such an occurrence but it had not been constructed when the riot broke out. Total actual cost of this building: $4,012.74.

The total cost of the projects, which includes some estimates, is $374,204.32.

In order to put the Penitentiary in absolutely top condition, Warden Bovey lists the following things which he feels should be rectified:

Yard Office—the prison chapel currently is used as yard office

Hay Shed—to replace the one destroyed by lightning last June.

Machine Shed—much prison equipment now stands out in all weather.

Officers Bachelor Quarters—Bovey terms present quarters "not as good as the worst of prisoner's quarters."

Deputy Warden's Quarters—The deputy warden and his family now live within the prison walls Bovey thinks they should have quarters on the grounds, but outside the wall

Hospital—The warden said the hospital should be on the ground floor and better equipped

Reception Center—New inmates current ly are processed through the hospital

Gymnasium—There are no accomodations for physical recreational activities during the winter months

Central Warehouse—Bovey said such a structure could be used by all state institutions and would save money on the purchasing and distribution of supplies

Classrooms—The Penitentiary needs additional accomodations for both vocational training and educational programs

(Tomorrow: The new program for inmates, which state officials believe has combined with the construction and staff changes to improve greatly the Penitentiary's operation.)

Ten Courthouse Deputies Get Raises In Salary

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County salary increases for 10 deputy officials effective Sept. 1 were announced Wednesday by County Board Chairman Russell Brehm.

Chief Deputy County Attorney, Dale Fahrnbruch was raised to $5,500 from $5,000 a year. Deputy Attorney Richard Harnsberger was increased to $4,800 from $4,200.

Deputy Engineer George Freeman and Chief Deputy Sheriff Les Hasson were boosted to $5,400 a year. Freeman's salary had been $5,200 and Hasson's $5,100.

Other deputies were boosted to $4,800 from $4,620 a year.

They are Deputy Assessor William Schnieder; Deputy District Court Clerk Otis Nelson; Deputy County Clerk Tyna Baer; Deputy Register of Deeds Kenneth Ferguson, Deputy Treasurer Charles Currie, and County Court Clerk Harold Hamlin.

Brehm said the County Board is working on a "county wage scale —which sets up maximums and minimums for the various positions."

Salary increases for other employes will be based on job classification in connection with the wage scale, he said.

The 1956-57 county budget is still being considered by the commissioners, but Brehm said it is anticipated that the budget will be set Friday.

Brehm said the Board "hopes to reduce the county tax levy from last year's 5.83 mills."

Preliminary budget requests called for $1,136,591.83 to be raised in tax money.

A levy reduction may be possible by budget cuts coupled with the increase in the county's assessed valuation.

$175,000 Damage Suit Is Filed In Sidney

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Carl A. Baker, a former Dalton, Neb., resident, has been sued in District Court here for $175,000 as a result of a two car accident July 26, 1955, south of Dalton. The suits were filed by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Jule Atkinson, Kansas residents.

Man, 24, Fined On 'Disturbing Peace' Charge

Jerry Hollman, 24, 1415 No. 19th, was fined $100 in Lancaster County Court after pleading no contest to a disturbing the peace charge involving a 19-year-old Lincoln girl.

Disturbance charges were filed against Hollman and Jack Warne, 25, 2234 Sheldon, following an investigation of the girl's claim of rape in which she was given a lie detector test.

Trial for Warne, who pleaded innocent, has been set for Aug. 18 with a $500 appearance bond.

PRESLEY 'SAFE'; DRAFT DOESN'T WANT HIM YET

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (INS)—Elvis Presley can keep right on rockin' and rollin' and buyin' Cadillacs for a while yet—his draft board is not breathing down his neck.

In response to reports that "Elvis the Pelvis" was about to be inducted, the snake-hipped singer said in St. Petersburg, Fla., that he didn't think so, adding:

"I haven't heard from them (his draft board) in three years and I hope I never do."

His draft board says the 21-year-old Presley, while 1-A, is a long way down the list of eligibles.

County Residents' Tax Bill For State Is Up From 1955

Lancaster County residents will pay more tax dollars for all state purposes this year even though the 1956 state levy was cut .09 to 8.09 mills.

County Clerk J. B. Morgan said the county will levy for $1,967,043 in tax dollars for state purposes for 1956-57 as compared with $1,855,285.96 raised for 1955-56.

This represents a $111,753.04 increase for all state purposes.

Two Reasons

Two reasons were listed by Morgan for the tax dollar increase:

1. An increase in the county's assessed valuation from last year's $183,509,987 to this year's $193,036,605 will bring in more tax dollars on the state's fixed levies as well as its reduced general fund levy.

2. An increase in the cost demand from state mental institutions for Lancaster County's patients from $354,274.27 last year to $407,620.77.

Institutional Costs Up

The state mental institutional costs for the county will require a levy of 2.10 mills this year — an increase from last year's 1.93 mills.

Thus, Lancaster County's mill levy for all state funds will be up .03 — from 10.11 a year ago to 10.19 mills.

The mill increase in the institutional levy is provided by state statute, but assessed by the counties on patient load in mental institutions.

The $9.5 million increase in the county's assessed valuation bringing the total to $193,036,605 has been certified by the State Board of Equalization.

This figure includes the railroads, franchise and Pullman assessments that were added onto County Assessor Arthut Davis' county assessed valuation of $187,661,625, which represented a $9.8 million increase.

The compared institutional levies for the county are:

| | 1956 | 1955 |
|---|---|---|
| Mental hospitals and Psychiatric Unit | 1.703 | 1.52 |
| Beatrice Home For Feebleminded | .377 | .39 |
| University Hospital, Omaha | .020 | .02 |
| Total | 2.10 | 1.93 |

The largest increase is in the mental hospital and psychiatric unit cost which jumped to $328,741 from $278,935.

Other institutional demand costs were up, but did not cause levy increases because of the off-set from the county's increased valuation.

The comparative breakdown of state tax money being collected from Lancaster County taxpayers for the 1956 fiscal year and the 1955 fiscal year:

| | 1956-57 | 1955-56 |
|---|---|---|
| State General | $1,204,548.00 | $1,161,618.22 |
| Special Levies | 212,547.00 | 201,240.00 |
| Service Annuities | 96,519 | 91,754.99 |
| University of Nebraska Medical Buildings | 48,259 | 45,877.50 |
| Mental Hospitals and Psychiatric Unit | 328,741 | 278,935.18 |
| Beatrice Home | 72,775 | 71,568.89 |
| University Hospital | 3,861 | 3,670.20 |
| Total | $1,967,043.00 | $1,855,285.96 |

Youthful Leader Of Southland Believes Civil Rights Needn't Cause Rift

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — In the old days, many a Southerner arrived at a Democratic National Convention hurling invectives and threats of what they would do if they didn't get their way.

But Gov. James Plemon Coleman of Mississippi—the man who has charge of the fuse that could blow next week's convention sky high—has an entirely different approach.

"I've always disagreed with that old policy," Coleman said Wednesday. "What's the sense of firing your shotgun before you get to the battlefield."

Coleman was the first governor to hit town, and his first words were significant.

Asked if he thought a civil rights plank could be written that would satisfy the South, Coleman beamed confidently and said:

"It can be done. The atmosphere is different this year."

He's One Reason

Modestly, Coleman didn't mention that he's one reason for the change.

The atmosphere got its first severe test Tuesday night. Adlai Stevenson, the front running candidate, had said he thought the party platform should give "unequivocal approval" of the Supreme Court's ruling on segregation.

The word was passed quickly. Coleman, who had been chosen earlier as the Southern leader, had called a meeting in his hotel suite.

This could be it: The South had risen, in anger, again.

Not Mad

But when reporters finally were let into his room, what did they find? A big (6 foot 2, 235 pounder) easy talkin', quick smilin' man who wasn't mad. Not at all, fella, at no one, no how, no where.

And when this reporter dropped around Wednesday to recheck his impressions, he found Coleman as relaxed as ever.

Yet his attitude can be misleading. Few politicians have moved faster.

A district attorney at 25, a delegate to a National Democratic Convention at 26, a circuit judge, a Mississippi Supreme Court justice, and now, at 42, governor, the first man in 32 years to get elected on his first try for the job.

More than that. He has been governor only since Jan. 17 and yet he already is established as spokesman for the South.

One reason he has got where he has soon as he has:

W-O-R-K

"Any hobbies? Why, yes, my hobby is work. W-O-R-K. Work."

And he figures if he works at it hard enough, he will come up with a civil rights plank the South can swallow.

He puts it this way:

"Of course, it won't be what we want. But while it won't please our folks, at least it won't be reprehensible to them."

Mississippi went for the States' Rights ticket in 1948, and the regular Democratic ticket wound up with only 19,000 votes. In 1952, it was back in the fold, and Stevenson breezed in easily with 170,000 votes.

Was Stevenson Worker

Coleman worked for Stevenson four years ago and still says he's "a fine man—excellent."

But then Coleman adds, softly and matter of factly:

"Of course, he could take a stand that would make it impossible for me—or any 50 men—to help him carry Mississippi."

And though he smiled when he said that, pardner, it was a reminder that though the shotgun is out of sight now, it's there—and it's loaded.

Burlington Buys Development Tract

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—The Burlington Railroad has announced purchase of a 115-acre tract of land for industrial development a half-mile from the north city limits of Fremont.

"The purchase was another step in the policy of making industrial sites available at key points on the Burlington," said H. C. Murphy, railroad president.

The tract is bounded on the west by Highway 77 and on the northwest by the Burlington's mainline between Fremont and South Sioux City.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska: Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees above normal during the five day period ending Monday. Normal highs range from the upper 80s in the extreme northern and western portions to the low 90s in south-central and southwest, and normal lows from the upper 50s in the Panhandle to the middle 60s in the southeast. Precipitation is expected to average about .50 of an inch, occurring as intermittent showers and thunderstorms.

Population Grows

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The population of the world increased 40 million people at mid-year 1955 over the previous year, the U.N. reported today. The new estimated population is 2,692,000,000.

Design Accepted For Postoffice

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Contemporary design, marked by a grid pattern of glass and brick, has been accepted as the design for the new 10-story United States Post Office and Court House approved for construction in Omaha.

The General Services Administration said it has approved this design and will carry out the construction under the Public Buildings Purchase Contract Act of 1954, the so-called lease-purchase legislation.

F. Moran McConihe, commissioner of public buildings, announced acceptance of the design, and said GSA soon will invite private investors and construction contractors to finance and build the new structure by competitive bidding. The estimated cost of the building will be $9,579,823.

City's 7,693 Vacant Lots Said Ample

An ample supply of vacant lots within the city is shown by a report by Planning Engineer Douglas Brogden to the City Planning Commission.

For this reason, the report said, the city should avoid the development of an excessive number of new lots during the next few years.

Brogden's study revealed a total of 7,693 vacant lots within the city limits plus 1,691 acres of land not subdivided. Of the total number of lots, 1,786 have no improvements, 2,782 are improved with water, sewer or paving, 1,435 have water, sewer and paving and 1,690 are in subdivisions approved during the period 1953-55.

From 1950 through 1955, Brogden reported 7,588 lots consumed and a 26,000 increase in population, a ratio of 3 4 persons increase per lot. This same ratio applied to an estimated growth of 7,000 to 10,000 persons by 1960 shows a demand for 2,000 to 3,000 lots by that time.

Another 4,000 lots, 10 per cent of the total number of lots within the city, should be vacant in the city, Brogden said. Thus, the desirable number of vacant lots plus the number needed for development during the next five years equals 6,500 lots that should now be vacant.

Subtracting that number from the number actually in existance leaves an excess of 1,200 lots, Brogden reported.

The report stated that an excess of vacant lots within a city leaves large open areas which are expensive to pass through or along with utilities leading to other areas.

German School Girl, 15, Takes Stand In Rape Trial

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP)—A 15-year-old German school girl testifying against seven American soldiers on trial for allegedly raping her held fast Wednesday to her story under cross examination that lasted all day.

The defendants, all Negroes, are accused of raping her last July 9 in a woods near Bamberg, where they are stationed. The incident set off a wave of anti-Army protests.

The General Court Martial had to make a one-hour recess after the girl broke down under the strain of protacted questioning. She still was in the witness box when the court recessed for the day. The girl's name was withheld by request of her parents and because of her age.

She testified that as far as she could recall she was raped five times in 15 minutes. A court official said later at an intermission that in the eyes of the law all defendants are equally involved.

Asked if she recognized in the court any of the soldiers who attacked her, she pointed out Pvt. James Gordon, 23, of Alachua, Fla., and Pfc. Fred R. Chandler, 21, of Kansas City, Mo.

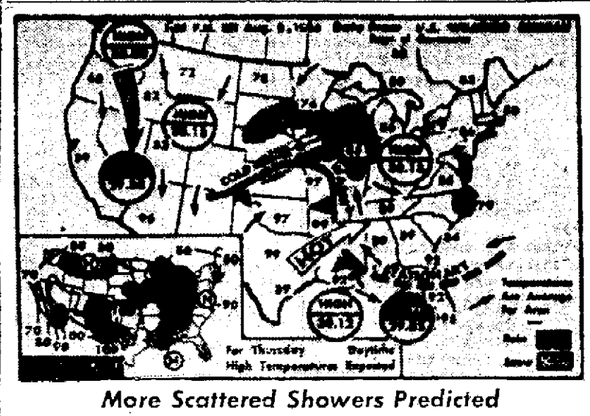

Among the other five defendants is Pvt. Clifton Franks, 21, of Omaha.

Flames Damage Wilber Wiener Plant

Production Disrupted

Lincoln Star Special

WILBER, Neb. — Flames, believed caused by a bolt of lightning, Wednesday extensively damaged the Wilber Wiener factory here, halting production for several days.

Lumir J. Fritz, co-owner of the plant, said damage figures were still unavailable but would probably run under $50,000.

Most of the damage was confined to the roof over the main part of the plant, Fritz disclosed. Also damaged were some of the contents of the building and some machinery.

Production operations are expected to get under way by Saturday afternoon, Fritz said.

Some Meat Lost

Although some of the meat was lost, most of the products were moved to the city light plant for refrigeration as those facilities were destroyed at the wiener factory. A 70 by 80 foot tarpaulin will cover the fire-gutted roof to allow production to be resumed until the building can be permanently repaired.

Night Watchman Frank Hayek and Dr. F. J. Travnicek, who also smelled smoke during the night, discovered the fire after an extensive search. At first they thought the smoke odor was coming from the furniture store.

Battled Fire 3 Hours

DeWitt firemen joined the Wilber firefighters in battling the flames for approximately three hours. Strong winds fanned the blaze.

A severe electrical storm hit the Wilber vicinity about 1 a.m. Wednesday. Lightning during this thundershower is believed to have caused the fire.

Founded in 1896, the Wilber Wiener Co. is Wilber's main industry and employs 20 persons. The building housing the plant was built in 1950 at a cost of about $100,000.

Fritz and Albert Yonke are co-owners of the plant, located two blocks south of Wilber's main street.

The blaze appeared to have broken out in the west part of the building, which housed the meat storage department and sausage factory. Only the walls were standing when the fire was extinguished.

The east half of the building which houses offices, a part of the factory and the packing room, suffered from fire damage, along with extensive smoke and water damage.

Plant Knocked Out At Wilber

An early morning fire badly damaged the Wilber Weiner plant Wednesday. Co-owner Albert Yonke (above) works feverishly to salvage some 40,000 pounds of fresh and processed meat by storing it in the company's four refrigerated trucks. The refrigeration equipment was damaged by the fire as were processing and dressing rooms. (Star Staff Photo)

Hearing Held On Use Of 'Nursing Home' Term

Under proposed changes of rules governing homes for the aged or infirm, Nebraska would designate only those homes providing professional care as "nursing homes."

This is the major change in rules which were aired Wednesday at a public hearing called by State Health Department officials.

The meeting was attended by about 60 operators of Nebraska homes which care for such persons.

Director Verne Pangborn of the Department's Hospital Division said homes which do provide either a registered nurse or a licensed practical nurse should be recognized for this service. Present rules give the term "nursing home" to all homes which provide care whether they have professional help or not. The new rules would divide the homes into two categories: nursing homes or care homes.

Two operators raised objection to this proposal at Wednesday's hearing. They were Mrs Irene Blair of Ogallala and W. R. Von Strode of Hastings.

State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers emphasized that the proposed division did not imply that excellent care was not available in homes which do not give professional care, but said the change will serve to clear up a lot of confusion.

Pangborn said the proposed regulations outline minimum standards set by the State, but local city ordinances can go further if desired. He said local initiative can solve most of the problems related to the care of such persons.

The hospital director cited Lincoln, Omaha, North Platte, Scottsbluff and Grand Island as communities where progress has been made in this field.

The proposed regulations have been approved by the State Health Board and the Hospital Advisory Council. Suggestions offered at Wednesday's hearing will be incorporated wherever feasible and will be reviewed next month by the Advisory Council, then will go to the attorney general and the governor for approval before being filed with the secretary of state as provided by law.

Dr. Rogers said it will be January 1, 1957 before the proposed changes go into effect

Expansions At Elgin To Have Effect Here

The Elgin National Watch Company announced Wednesday it is doubling the capacity of its micronics division centered in Burbank, Calif.

The California plant is being enlarged to handle new prototype production of small automatic timing mechanisms for missiles, aircraft, airborne target equipment and atomic devices

Elgin established its West Coast micronics branch a year ago to develop a safety arming mechanism for the U S Navy

This item currently is being readied for mass production at the Lincoln plant, Brandes said.

Freed Bishop Set To Leave China Soon, Church Reports

. . . Reds Offering No Obstacles

HONG KONG (AP)—Bishop Ambrose Pinger, freed from a Chinese Communist prison last Friday, is expected to leave China early next week, church sources said Wednesday.

The Franciscan Mission here said the Roman Catholic prelate probably will arrive in Hong Kong Aug. 15 from Shanghai.

In a telephone conversation with the Associated Press, Bishop Pinger, a Nebraskan, said the Red authorities were offering no obstacles to his departure.

"I am just waiting for a ship," he said

"I wish to express my thanks to the American Red Cross for their kindness during my detention," the bishop added in the telephone interview.

Celebrated Mass

He said he celebrated mass Sunday, 36 hours after leaving jail

"I feel quite well," Bishop Pinger said when asked about his health. "I couldn't say whether or not I have put on weight. I am not worrying about such small things"

Arrested in Tsingtao in 1951, the bishop was transferred to Shanghai during the past year The Chinese Reds never announced publicly the charges against him.

"I stay home most of the time and spend my time reading and meditating," the bishop said. He is staying at the Franciscan Mission in Shanghai.

No Word

"I have had no communications from friends or family in the United States," he added, "I am quite satisfied"

Interstate Road System Expected To Cut Fatalities

OMAHA (AP)—Gov. Victor Anderson said the interstate highway system should cut highway traffic fatalities about 35 per cent, and told the Omaha Safety Council the speed limit on the system will probably be about 10 miles an hour higher than on other roads

But with limited access the danger of intersection collisions will be lessened, he declared

Anderson said he received some complaints from speeders caught by radar but "I have not fixed a ticket and I don t expect to"

Ten Narrowly Escape Serious Injury In Crash Near Norfolk

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP) — Ten persons, three adults and seven children, who were on their way to the Shrine Circus at Norfolk, narrowly escaped serious injury when their station wagon rolled over twice on Highway 275 1 9 miles west of Norfolk.

They are: Mrs William Artus, 31, and her four children, Ellen, 9; Billy, 7; Nancy, 5, and Charles, 4, all of O'Neill; Mrs. Lou Winnick and her daughter, Pamela, 5, and Mrs. Vincent Giannetto and her children, Christopher, 6, and, Ruth Ann 2, all of New York City.

All were treated for bruises at a Norfolk hospital, except Ellen Artus who was hospitalized with internal injuries. She was thrown through a rear door.

The accident happened when Mrs Artus "jerked" the steering wheel to get the station wagon off the road shoulder, and lost control of it, Trooper Carl Sheel said It rolled over twice and landed in a barbed wire fence.

Safety belts in the front seat were not in use at the time, Scheel said.

A Letter about Bread from the GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Bureau

Reprinted from the June, 1956, issue of GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Magazine

Dear Reader:

There are a lot of things we at Good Housekeeping want to know about a loaf of bread before we write "O.K." on the slip of paper that admits a piece of advertising copy to our pages and gives a baker the right to use our Guaranty Seal. Is the bakery shining-clean throughout, one that a homemaker would enjoy visiting and telling her friends about? Does the production control insure uniformity of bread day after day? What about the ingredients that go into the loaf? Does the recipe call for items that make the finished product a nutritional bargain? Is the proper percentage of milk used, and are enriching vitamins and minerals present in the amounts required?

Our information on sanitation, quality control, etc., must be gathered through field investigation. Composition and keeping properties (many brands of bread today contain special ingredients that extend the life of the loaf) are then checked in our laboratories.

But the most important investigation has to do with appearance and taste. Because we insist that bread should look delicious and taste even better, we turn the loaves over to a panel of consumers who judge them just as any homemaker would. In sandwiches, as toast, or simply as buttered slices, the bread must bring forth enthusiastic comments from our panel to earn our "O.K."

We use the same procedure in investigating all varieties of bread—enriched white, whole wheat, rye, and the many delicious kinds of specialty bread now on the market.

Bread is one of our most nutritious and most economical foods. It is served in practically every American home at least once a day and often more frequently. We think that you have every right to expect any bread you buy to be good bread. And if it carries the Good Housekeeping Guaranty Seal, you can be sure it is.

Stocks Gain Again Despite Suez Crisis

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market gained ground again Wednesday in its second climb up from Monday's setback.

At the opening, the market picked up where Tuesday's advance left off and made its biggest gains in the first hour. Some increases were trimmed slightly, but the market generally held steady until the final hour when prices again improved.

The two-day rise was viewed on Wall Street as a sign that the Suez Canal situation was being viewed more calmly. Brokers said this allowed the market to rise on the basis of a good business outlook and inflation prospects.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $190.10, with industrials up $1.40, rails up 30 cents and utilities up 10 cents. In two days the average has gone up $1.50, compared with a drop of $2.10 Monday.

Trading was heavier for the second day's advance, with volume at 2,450,000 shares compared with 2,180,000 for the day before.

On the American stock exchange prices were mostly higher. Volume was 1,170,000 shares compared with Tuesday's 930,000.

Escapee, 23, Gets Penitentiary Term

Ernest A. Marks, 23, Nebraska Reformatory inmate from Detroit, Mich., has been sentenced to an 18-month Penitentiary term for escape.

Marks pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to escape from the Reformatory on July 10 when he and another inmate drove away from a work detail in a '52 pickup truck.

He was arrested earlier this week at Sidney where he was working in the harvest. At the time of his escape, he was serving a two to three-year term for auto theft given in June, 1955, from Douglas County.

The other inmate, Lloyd Kiesling, 23, of Waverly, was sentenced to 18 months for escape after voluntarily surrendering to Topeka, Kan., authorities shortly after escaping.

State To Set River Crossing For Highway

A meeting between State Engineer L. N. Ress and Iowa State Highway officials Wednesday resulted in placing the burden of responsibility on Nebraska for the placement of a Missouri River crossing for the projected interstate highway.

Ress said he went to Ames with a proposal for making the Missouri crossing at Omaha, but the Iowa officials came up with new ideas on the entire interstate proposal which change the picture.

Iowa officials have completely deleted a circumferential route east and south of Council Bluffs which Ress said practically necessitates Nebraska's re-evaluation of what to do about the main east-west connection between Iowa and Nebraska.

Ress was told that Iowa's present plans are for Highways 6-75 to intersect somewhere north of the Mormon Bridge at Crescent City. From that intersection, Iowa will be willing to make a cutoff to link U. S. 6 to the Missouri River crossing at any point suitable to Nebraska.

Ress said he had assurances from Iowa officials that they would be glad to go along with any proposals Nebraska makes regarding the crossing. But he added he would have to devise a compromise upon which they could work.

The Nebraska engineer said he is studying the situation.

British Anglican Leader Critical Of Catholic Church

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Wednesday accused the Roman Catholic Church of suppressing the freedom of other churches in many parts of the world.

The Anglican church leader, vacationing in Vienna, said at a news conference:

"I admire the Catholic Church in many respects and I have made many efforts during the last two years to establish closer links between the two churches."

He added, however, that "much to our regret, we notice in many parts of the world a suppression of the freedom of the other churches by the Catholic Church."

An INTERESTING position
With the Want Ad Dept. of This Newspaper
Would you like to be a part of the fascinating field of newspaper work? This job is a combination of telephone work, public service and "saleswomanship." But it's NOT a dull, routine job! You can learn more about WHO is doing WHAT in WHICH field through this position than through any other job in town. You'll become a phone friend to many people by helping them with their individual problems — finding lost kitties, selling homes or boats, renting apts., etc.
The young lady we need must be 20 to 35, a high school graduate, be able to type, spell and punctuate correctly and do simple computation quickly. A clear, pleasant telephone voice is ESSENTIAL. Sales experience is helpful but not necessary if you enjoy working with people.
You will work 40 hours per week with Sunday and either Tues. or Thur. off. Your co-workers are a fine, congenial group. We work in a modern air-conditioned building and use the latest type equipment. Paid vacations and group insurance, of course.
Salary and commission make this position WELL above average and there is no limit to what a superior girl can earn.
If you have the above qualifications and want to find your niche in the advertising world in a specialized field, call Mr. Golding, 2-3331, for a personal interview. X

Docking Apparent Democratic Governor Nominee In Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Down-to-the-wire contests for the Democratic nominations for governor and U.S. senator were reflected in late returns from Tuesday's primary election in Kansas.

Woodring

Unlike the one-sided contest for the Republican nomination for governor which saw Gov. Fred Hall defeated by more than 30,000 votes, the Democratic gubernatorial contest was close all the way.

Unofficial returns from all but seven of the state's 2,957 precincts gave George Docking the Democratic gubernatorial nominee in 1954, 76,159 votes to Harry Woodring's 75,301.

Ex-Sec. Of War

Woodring was governor in 1930-32 and served as secretary of war in President Roosevelt's administration in 1936-40.

If the official canvassed returns show Docking the winner, it will be the first time in four tries that Woodring ever has lost a Democratic nomination for governor. Two other times he won only to be defeated in the general election.

Final, unofficial returns from the Republican contest for governor gave State Rep. Warren W. Shaw 153,938 to 121,498 for Hall.

2nd Time

It was only the second time in a half-century of Kansas primary elections that a Republican governor has been denied renomination.

During most of the counting of the unofficial returns Paul Aylward, Ellsworth attorney, enjoyed leads ranging up to 10,000 votes over his nearest opponent, George Hart of Wichita, in a four-man race for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination.

But a tremendous surge of votes in Hart's home town almost enabled him to overtake Aylward.

Unofficial returns from 2,946 precincts gave Aylward 53,203 and Hart 53,060.

The Aylward-Hart winner will try to unseat U.S. Sen. Frank Carlson in the general election. Carlson easily won renomination.

Five GOP incumbent congressmen, three of whom were unopposed also won renomination easily. State Sen. John Crutcher of Hutchinson defeated State Rep. Jay Berryman of Ashland for GOP nomination to the congressional seat now held by Clifford Hope, who is retiring after 30 years service.

Writ Of Error Filed With State High Court

The State Supreme Court Wednesday received a petition for a writ of error from Elmer Hoffman of Wilber, Neb. Hoffman was found guilty June 7, of embezzling 57,000 gallons of gasoline worth $11,400 from the Farmer Elevator Corporation of Wilber where he was manager of the gas and oil station. The alleged embezzlement occurred from January 1, 1954 to June 15, 1955.

The District Court (7th Judicial District) denied Hoffman's appeal for a new trial July 12, 1956, and on that date sentenced him to two to three years in the Reformatory.

44 State Deaths From 1951-1955 Due To Poisoning

A total of 44 persons have died in Nebraska in the five year period of 1951-1955 as a result of accidental or suicidal poisoning.

Largest total is 12 persons in the one-year-old group. These children's deaths were attributed to a variety of poisonous liquids ranging from shoe and furniture polish to fuel oil, carbon-tetrachloride and Energine. Two deaths were reported of children under one year of age.

Lancaster County listed three deaths in this period from poisoning.

Going to move soon? Be sure to notify the Circulation Department, giving both your old and new address.

Exchange Stalled

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said that a planned exchange of students between Chicago and Moscow Lomonosov universities has been postponed until next year.

The postponement resulted, the broadcast said, because the Soviet Embassy in Washington was informed by the State Department that the Soviet students would have to have their fingerprints taken before they could enter the United States.

$47,000 In Hole

CHICAGO (INS) — Sen. Estes Kefauver's former campaign manager, Joseph F. Donohue, said the Tennesseean was $47,000 in the hole after the California primary.

Donohue said the deficit has been whittled to $28,000 and friends have pledged to liquidate it "30 days after the convention."
